

Continue Search For Dead

At Least 16 Died,
90 Were Injured
In Blast at Iowa
Swift & Co. Plant

By Al Dopking

SIoux CITY, Ia., Dec. 15.—(P)—Amid a scene of ruin "just like the place had been bombed," workmen and machines today dug through rubble where at least 16 persons perished in a violent explosion yesterday.

As sorrowing families of the 16 identified dead went about funeral preparations the search at the Swift and Co., packing plant continued for three persons still missing.

Nine of some 90 other persons injured remained in critical condition at hospitals.

Leaking gas which had hampered search operations was stopped last night.

Workmen who labored throughout the night under floodlights used blow torches to melt away twisted girders.

Discarded Masks

The searchers were able to discard their gas masks after ammonia fumes from the plant's shattered refrigeration system were cut off at their source.

The blast rocked the buildings shortly before the noon hour yesterday. There were about 1,000 persons in the building.

The front end of the building was hit hardest. The first and second floors which housed the office staff and company restaurant got the brunt of the blast.

Part of the second floor ceiling caved in. A reinforced concrete loading dock at the southwest corner of the building fell into the basement. Several bodies were recovered there.

There was an almost warlike atmosphere today as trucks and bulldozers moved ahead on the slow job of removing the debris. A veteran of the European front in World War II said he had seen lots of bombed out buildings "but never anything as bad as this."

Guardsmen On Parole

National Guardsmen still paroled the area around the plant. It is located in the heart of the Sioux City stockyards, one of the nation's major terminal markets.

No formal investigation into the specific cause and location of the explosion had been begun. Fire Chief Charles Kuhl assigned escaping natural gas as the cause.

Mayor Dan J. Conley, who called a meeting of all key officials for today "to go over the whole situation," said an investigation (Please turn to page 10, column 6)

Bankers' Party To be Tonight

The regular quarterly meeting and Christmas party of the Benton and Pettis County Bankers Association will be held this evening, starting at 6:30 o'clock in the Ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel.

Approximately 150 officers, directors, employees, their wives and guests are expected to attend the affair. The dinner will consist of hickory smoked ham and turkey with all the extras.

The meeting tonight has been set aside as a social function. Later in the evening a dance will be held with Harry Trotman's orchestra furnishing the music.

John J. McGrath, president of the association, will have charge of the meeting. Herbert W. Mason, president of the Union Savings bank is chairman of the entertainment program committee.

W. H. Lumpe, Cole Camp, cashier of the Citizens-Farmers bank is vice president of the association and J. E. Norton, cashier at the Union Savings bank is secretary-treasurer.

Resolution on Brannan Plan To Convention

Asks Aggressive Opposition To The Program

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—(P)—The American Farm Bureau Federation convention today heard the Brannan farm program termed "an opening wedge which eventually would result in government supervised and permanent agricultural poverty."

"There is no good reason why the government should pay part of the grocery bill of every citizen," a resolution read to delegates to the 31st annual convention of the federation added.

The Brannan plan resolution and others were submitted to the convention for action. A vote is expected late today and the tone of the first three days of the meeting pointed to approval of the farm organization's policy statement.

Federation leaders have spoken against the farm plan proposed by the secretary of agriculture. President Allan B. Kline of the federation termed it "a political scheme to get the votes of both farmers and consumers."

The resolution called for aggressive opposition to the plan.

Convention Ends Today

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—(P)—The American Farm Bureau Federation, winding up its 31st annual convention today, was expected to go on record expressing opposition to the plan.

Katy to Buy 15 More Diesel Engines

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—(P)—Directors of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad agreed today to buy 15 additional diesel-electric locomotives, including two passenger engines.

All will be put into service during the first quarter of 1950. President Donald V. Fraser said acquisition of the new locomotives would bring the line's total to 59, replacing 122 steam-type engines.

Postpone Scheduled A-Bomb Hearings

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—The House Un-American activities committee decided today to wait until after congress meets in January to renew its inquiry into the wartime shipment of atomic materials to Russia.

The hearings had been set to resume next Monday. Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) announced the postponement. He said a definite date for the sessions will be fixed later.

Two-Way Fight Predicted For 1952 Republican Nomination

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15.—(P)—Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., the man who mapped the Republican presidential race in 1948, today predicted a two-way fight for the 1952 nomination.

The contestants: Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and General Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University.

Scott, Philadelphia Congressman who was chairman of the Republican national committee until last summer, returned to his office after a nine-day trip to the west coast, during which he talked politics in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Denver and several other places along the way.

"I think the contest will be strictly between Eisenhower and Taft," Scott concluded. "Unless, of course, some favorite son comes along at the last minute to beat them to it."

"There is no doubt in my mind that Eisenhower is a Republican," Scott said in an interview. "The conservative-minded people like Taft. But the great bulk of the middle-of-the-road voters, regardless of party, speak most favorably of Eisenhower as their choice for 1952."

He listed as tops among favorite son possibilities of the moment Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and Governor Val Peterson of Nebraska.

Two-Year-Old Sees Lights For The First Time

PICO, Calif., Dec. 15.—(P)—"Lights, daddy, lots 'n lots a light!"

This breathless cry came yesterday from two-year-old Suzanne Bish. The joy the exclamation brought to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bish, wasn't so much because their daughter was seeing her first Christmas tree. It was because she was seeing—for the first time.

Little Suzanne was born with cataracts over both pupils. Specialists said that with a series of expensive operations she could see.

Bish's American Legion buddies immediately launched a "Sight for Suzanne" campaign.

Suzanne underwent her fourth operation two weeks ago. She needs only one more.

It will be a bright Christmas for her.

Irish Boys on Television

MARSHALL, Mo., Dec. 15.—(P)—The two boys from a Dublin orphanage who were reunited here last week will appear together Friday night on a radio-television show in New York.

Charley Robertson, six, was brought here a year ago along with three other children from the orphanage by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robertson.

In his prayers Charley remembered his buddy, James Anthony Markey.

Just last week Jimmy came to Missouri, as the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. W. King Prior, Jefferson City. The Priors and the Robertsons are friends so when the Priors wanted to adopt a son, they thought of Charley's friend, Tony.

The boys, together with their foster mothers, will appear on "We the People" program at 8:30 p. m. (EST) tomorrow night (7:30 p. m. EST).

The boys and Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Prior were to go by plane to New York today.

Fire at California Fair Grounds

The feed room of a cattle barn at the California, Mo., fair grounds was destroyed by fire Wednesday night at a loss estimated at about $1,000. The structure was 20 by 18 feet and caught fire from what was believed a carelessly thrown cigarette.

The building was located in the west end of the fair grounds. Two other buildings on the fair grounds—the Art Hall and Amphitheatre—were destroyed by fire in 1946.

Entertainment At Kiwanis Party Unique

Program Planned In Connection With Christmas Meeting

Novel entertainment was provided for the Sedalia Kiwanians, Kiwanis-queens and guests at the club's annual Christmas party held at the Bothwell hotel Thursday night.

The meeting was presided over by Bert Hathaway, president with Pinkney Miller as program chairman, who introduced the Rev. H. U. Campbell as master of ceremonies.

Sgt. William J. Meyers, ballistics expert with the Kansas City police department, was the guest speaker and talked on the serious business of how to handle firearms safely. He pointed out that if people have firearms about the home they should see first that they are unloaded and second that children are taught to handle them properly. He had with him various types of small arms which had been lethal weapons in the hands of careless youths in Kansas City, weapons which meant death or injury to handlers of guns, or their friends.

"The Fall Guy"

Assisting Sgt. Meyers was Sgt. Joe Adelman of Kansas City, who was the fall guy in a demonstration of judo and the art of self defense. Previously Sgt. Adelman had appeared on the party scene as a dumb waiter whose antics among the guests kept them in an uproar of hilarity throughout the serving and eating of the turkey dinner.

He later explained it was all in fun although many were suspicious he intended pouring hot coffee down their necks.

Another entertainment feature that was greatly enjoyed was the showing of silhouettes of all the club members. The pictures had been taken earlier in the year by Elmer Sterling, secretary. The Kiwanis-queens were asked to guess who the silhouette was of as each was thrown on the screen.

Pep singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Miss Dorothy Ann Reed at the piano.

Special Music

Special music was provided by Mrs. Abe Rosenthal, Mrs. Ray Hunt, Mrs. William Ward, Mrs. Ben Robinson, Mrs. Henry Salver, Mrs. Leonard Peabody, Dr. J. W. Maunders, William Ward, David Eisenstein and Rev. H. U. Campbell, singing Fred Waring's arrangement of "Winter Wonderland." The group was directed by Abe Rosenthal with Miss Reed as accompanist. Mrs. Ward was in charge of the special musical program.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." The tables were decorated in sleighs with reindeer, candles and Christmas trees made of shiny Christmas balls. Members of the decorating committee were Mrs. C. L. Carter, Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Mrs. G. W. Chambers and Mrs. Robert Malone.

Favors were candy canes most of which were left on the tables to be taken to the Mellita Day Nursery.

Joint Relief Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—The American Legion and the American Red Cross have signed an agreement for joint work in disaster relief.

It provides for using manpower of the big Veterans' organization in immediate and complete cooperation with the Red Cross and other disaster relief agencies.

The agreement, announced today, follows up an understanding between the two agencies which has continued since 1926.

Jessup Off to Study Policy Of Far East

Findings Expected To Determine U. S. Relationship

By The Associated Press

U.S. Roving Ambassador Philip C. Jessup is off today on a policy study tour of the Far East. His findings are expected to shape America's future relations with neighboring countries of Communist China, and with Communist China itself.

Jessup probably will confer with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo. In Bangkok he will meet top American diplomats from Far Eastern posts. They will discuss moves that may be made to contain the spread of Communist power.

The U.S. global trouble shooter will embark on a ship to sail from San Francisco. Administration critics who looked for quicker action from the State Department last week criticized Jessup for taking "a slow boat to China."

He has a well prepared program before him and a record of success in ticklish diplomatic spots. Jessup helped engineer the Soviet lifting of the Berlin blockade.

Pressing Aid Program

A responsible British source in London said Britain is pressing the United States and Canada to help launch a gigantic new aid program for the Middle East and Southern Asia. The idea is to save strategic potentially-rich regions from falling into the Soviet orbit.

This source said the program is now being discussed at top-secret three-power talks now going on in Washington.

Delegates of 16 Indonesian states flew to Jogjakarta in Java today to pick a President for the United States of Indonesia. The Indonesian republic, the parent of the new union, was threatened by a Communist uprising last year. Observers said the rubber and oil-rich islands will need American and Western financial aid to bolster their economy against future Communist infiltration.

Unconfirmed Reports

In Hong Kong, there were unconfirmed reports that Britain will soon recognize the Chinese Communist regime. Eight of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's civil air transport planes left unexpectedly for Formosa on hearing these reports.

In Tokyo, Emperor Hirohito told the Diet (parliament) at its opening session that Japan now can hope for speedy admission into the international community of nations. He expressed Japan's hopes for an early peace treaty.

Closed Session

The United Nations trusteeship council was called into closed session at Lake Success to consider what it is going to do about internationalizing Jerusalem. Israel has defied the U.N. decision to control the city by making it Israel's permanent capital. Many U.N. delegates said the trusteeship council is faced with a hopeless task.

A three-day wildcat strike that inconvenienced millions of Londoners ended today in four of Britain's nationalized electric power plants. The 2,700 strikers went back to work without wage gains and the lights came on again.

Greetings And Parking Leniency

Overtime parkers in Sedalia's business district will probably receive a Christmas greeting from the city's meter department and a warning for the parkers not to take unfair advantage of the leniency being shown.

The cards will read: "Due to the crowded shopping conditions and the resulting parking problem, overtime parking is being excused until after Christmas. Please do not take unfair advantage of this leniency—give others a chance too. Enjoy yourself and visit Sedalia often. We wish you sincerely, A Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Meter Department

City of Sedalia, Missouri.

Chief of Police, Edgar Neighbors said the cards need not be brought to the police department. They merely signify that the car has been overparked and that such negligence should be watched more carefully.

Neighbors added that those who do take undue advantage of the leniency will get a regular parking ticket and must come to the station and post a bond.

"This practice is for the benefit of the shoppers and everyone is urged to cooperate," said Neighbors.

Granted Radio Permit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—The Communications Commission has granted the Cape County Broadcasting Co., Cape Girardeau, Mo., a permit for an FM radio station.

Police Remember a Cripple, Who Buys Calf, Doubles Value

A regular morning, noon and evening smile and a gay hello from Miss Joy Guinn, aged 18, as she walked past the Sedalia police station day after day, brought her a birthday present of ten dollars from the policemen on her last birthday anniversary, May 22, 1949.

A Christmas card to the police from Joy contained a little note telling them what she did with the ten dollars. Joy wrote that she bought a Guernsey bull calf, fed it and raised it through the summer and fall, sold it with a "double-your-money" profit and will now invest in another breed. Joy has been crippled since birth but despite her condition she always made an effort to get to the Sacred Heart high school where she was a student. She also has musical talent and plays the piano.

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 15.—(P)—President Truman said today that Treasury and congressional staff experts are making studies to determine whether war-time excise taxes can be repealed.

In a surprise vacation news conference, the President declined to say whether he will ask new taxes of Congress.

However, he said it was always his aim to balance the budget.

Reminded that he had told a news conference in Washington recently that he knew of no way to wipe out a deficit other than by raising taxes, he was asked if he still felt that way.

MANILA, Dec. 15.—(P)—Constabulary headquarters tonight reported 15 men were killed and 64 are missing and presumed dead in an encounter today between government forces and Moro outlaws on Jolo island in the Southern Philippines.

JENKINS, Ky., Dec. 15.—(P)—A truck mine operator who signed a contract with John L. Lewis summed up his own and associates' reaction by saying "it's hell if we do, and hell if we don't."

The United Mine Workers chief announced signing with operators in Kentucky, Indiana, West Virginia and Ohio in Washington Dec. 6.

With one exception, however, none of the operators admit acceptance of the contract, which boosted miners' pay to $15 a day, increased welfare fund payments 15 cents a ton, and permitted the signers to work a five-day week.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—Forecasts of higher steel prices brought the promise today of a swift congressional investigation.

The lawmakers themselves, however, split along party lines as to whether price hikes are justified.

Eleven in One Family Die In Home Fire

Skeletons Showed Victims Died In Their Sleep

ROTAN, Tex., Dec. 15.—(P)—Eleven transient farm workers—all members of one family—burned to death today when fire destroyed their small house at the edge of a cotton field.

The blackened remains of the four-room dwelling on the C. A. Douthitt farm, eight miles northeast of this West Texas town, were found at 9 a. m.

Two hours later, 11 skeletons were counted in the charred ruins.

The dead included three generations. Seven were children, including a 14-year-old girl, married and pregnant.

Died While Asleep

The position of the skeletons showed the victims died in their sleep, huddled together on the floors of two bedrooms.

Officers said the cause of the fire was unknown, but that evidence pointed to a two-burner kerosene cookstove.

The Latin-American family had begun picking cotton only yesterday on the Douthitt farm. They arrived here from a Brownfield, Texas, job.

A field worker, Gardo Trevino, discovered the tragedy when he passed the site of the house this morning and saw the blackened ruins. The house was situated a mile away from any other dwelling.

Carol Festival This Evening

Tonight the major musical organization of Sedalia will assemble at the First Christian church, located at Seventh street and Massachusetts avenue for the second annual Christmas Carol Festival.

The participating organizations in this annual affair are as follows: the Sedalia Men's Choral club, conducted by Abe Rosenthal and accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox; the Queen City Choral, conducted by Dr. Delbert Johnson of Kansas City and accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox; and the Sedalia Youth Choral, another of Johnson's projects and a mass choir of two hundred voices.

The event under the direction of the Queen City Choral will open with a trumpet prelude at 7:00 o'clock, with the carol singing starting at 8:00 o'clock.

The Choral will present Handel's "Messiah," 8:00 p. m., December 22 at Smith-Cotton high school auditorium.

Revenue Bill Is Signed

Biggest Single Item in State Measure Is For General Relief

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15.—(P)—Gov. Forrest Smith signed a $7,563,144 catch-all appropriation bill without change today.

The total includes $2,534,603 from general revenue (tax) money and an estimated $4,000,000 in federal matching funds.

Biggest single item is $1,100,000 extra for general relief. The state division of welfare also got another $250,000 for aid to dependent children.

Proctor N. Carter, state welfare director, told the legislature the amounts were needed to keep relief and ADC payments at their present levels through 1950. Without the money—which is in addition to amounts allotted earlier—he said payments would have to be cut as more cases come on the rolls.

PUPPETEER — Raye Copelan entertains children in Sister Kenny polio wing of Jersey City Medical Center with puppet show. Inset is packaged puppet theater.

AP Newsfeatures

The age of television has ushered in a bright new dramatic star—the puppet.

Popularity of puppet characters performing daily for TV audiences has opened up a long neglected field of toys—and this Christmas some of the most successful items in Santa's pack will be new simplified puppet dolls, often complete with miniature theatres, tickets and other props to encourage juvenile dramatics.

Among those who anticipated the revival of interest in puppet playthings is a cheerful housewife and mother named Raye Copelan, whose interest in the subject began at the age of six, when she carved a puppet's face out of a potato and used a scrap of cloth to cover her hand for the body.

Now one of the country's top of the WPA puppet project and spent several years traveling with a troupe that put on shows and entertained children in the schools and recreation centers all over the country.

After her marriage, the puppets emerged only occasionally to entertain the children. Then when her husband came home from World War II, they decided to go over the world, as the factory, Copelan hand-carved a model and worked out a simplified one-hand control. They set up a miniature factory in the basement of their Jamaica, Long Island, home — and that's how Peter Puppet was born.

Home Is Again Ransacked

The police department received a second call within two days from Lee V. Hammonds, 212 East Morgan street.

Hammonds reported to the police Tuesday evening that his house had been ransacked and then Wednesday evening he called again and said that a glass bank belonging to his wife had been broken open and about fifteen dollars taken. A hammer was lying on a table and it is believed by Hammonds it was used in "cracking the bank."

Hammonds said he thought the thief, or thieves, entered the house through a kitchen window. Christmas packages were torn open but nothing in them was taken.

Atom Question: Are Federal Workers Expendable?

By Douglas Larsen
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A secret committee of top government officials is sorting all federal employees in Washington into two groups — the expendable and the non-expendable.

The idea is to try to determine whether it is possible to move the non-expendable workers into widely scattered office buildings 10 or 20 miles away from the city as a defense against an atomic bomb attack. If the plan proves workable, the expendable employees would be left to occupy the present government buildings in the heart of the city.

The committee's study was inspired by a recent Atomic Energy Commission report, pointing out just how vulnerable the nation's capital is to A-bomb attack as it exists today.

Cost of the project is the big problem. Officials have already decided that the calculated risk of an atomic bomb attack isn't worth the staggering cost of moving all of the federal workers out of the District of Columbia proper. The remaining question is whether it might be practical to start moving out just a few key agencies such as Army, Navy, Air Force or maybe State department.

Dividing Washington's government workers into expendables and non-expendables is not as cold blooded as it sounds. If the non-expendables were moved out it would make the city a much less attractive target for the enemy and the expendables would be much safer than they are now.

The committee has just started trying to figure out the most vital federal workers would be in case of a war. It actually boils down to what agencies are most important for defense purposes. Chances are it will be discovered that the federal government in Washington has become so integrated that it will be impossible to say that any one department's workers are expendable. In that case the committee is back to the fact that the cost of total dispersion is greater than the risk.

As a matter of fact, for the past 15 years there has been a conscious dispersion of the government's activities here, but for reasons of traffic and city congestion rather than as an atomic bomb defense measure. Much of the Census Bureau has been put in Suitland, Md., seven miles from the center of the city. A federal medical center is being built beyond Bethesda, Md., eight miles from town. Various government research laboratories have been put in distant rural areas around the capital.

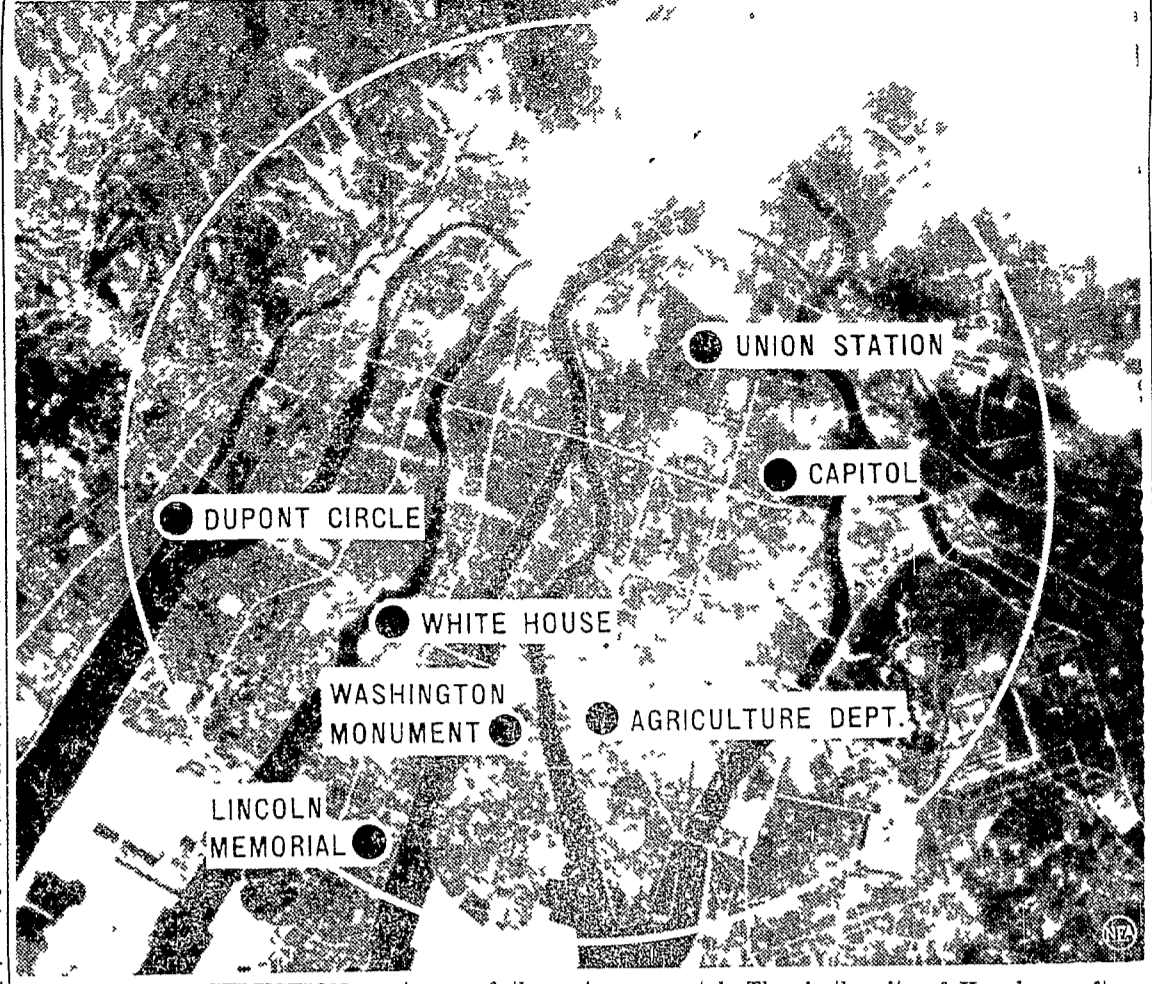

If it is finally decided to disperse the non-expendable workers, it would mean a wholesale shifting of quarters. Key war agencies, at least, would move to outlying buildings. The non-war agencies now on the outskirts would move into the Pentagon and other buildings.

All new construction of government buildings would then be planned on about a 10-mile perimeter of the city. In this way the cost of such an effort could be kept at a minimum. It would be done over a period of years, depending upon whether the threat of attack increases or decreases.

The cost of building express highways to outlying buildings, providing suitable water supplies and taking care of sewage is a big factor in dispersion. Another problem is locating the homes of workers. If the employees all dove back to homes in the District after work the enemy could just drop his bombs at night to paralyze the government.

Another basic problem being investigated by the secret committee is the possibility of maximum decentralization of government activities. Right now there is more decentralization than most people realize. There are only 212,000 federal workers in Washington with 1,800,000 others in various parts of the country.

All federal officials are trying hard to play down the scare of an atomic bomb attack on the city. Nevertheless, for the first time in the history of the federal service, career employees in the field are no longer struggling to get transferred to Washington.

ATOMIC DESTRUCTION in terms of the nation's capital. This is the city of Hiroshima after it was blasted by an atom bomb. Everything inside the circle was vulnerable to the single bomb's explosion. And over the picture of Hiroshima, in the same scale as the photo and circle are superimposed some key points in Washington to show what the bomb would mean there.

The weeks before Christmas have been busy ones for the members of the auxiliary to the American Legion Post No. 16, for in addition to taking care of their own Christmas lists and activities they have been helping to brighten the Christmas for the men in the veterans hospitals who didn't come back to lead happy, normal lives.

One of the things about Christmas that is so much fun is Christmas shopping for members of your family. For this the members of the American Legion Auxiliary in the nation try to give a bit of that fun to these men who cannot get out and shop. They provide gift shops of all kinds of gifts for women and children from which the men may select what they want for their families and have their gifts wrapped and mailed without cost. The women of the auxiliary to Legion Post No. 16, brought their gifts to the meeting Monday night and such an array as it was. There were dresses for little girls, and various other wearing apparel, toys, stationery, crochet and embroidery work, marbles, toilet articles and many other things. Friends of the auxiliary members helped, too, by giving things for the gift shops. The gifts are attractively arranged on carts so they may be taken around to bedfast patients and they pick the gifts they want for their family.

For Yanks Who Gave In addition the Legion Auxiliary has purchased and had mailed, "Gifts for the Yanks who gave," amounting to $35.00. They were pajamas and handkerchiefs, that each hospitalized veteran may receive a Christmas box and a crisp new one dollar bill. Money for the dollar bills will also be sent. This money is obtained through poppy sales to provide Christmas cheer for veterans in the hospitals and other needs for veterans and their families through the year.

Hospital sponsored by Legion auxiliaries of Missouri are Wadsworth, Excelsior Springs and Jefferson Barracks.

The auxiliary will also fill gift baskets for needy families of veterans.

(NEA Telephoto) FIND MISSING GIRL'S FOOTPRINTS — Searchers at Kelso, Wash., point out footprints of missing 16-year-old Ruth Aberle in a thicket of the wilderness where she disappeared from a Christmas tree hunt. Trinity Lutheran's Children's Program

The Children's Christmas program, given annually at Trinity Lutheran church, Tenth street and Osage avenue, will be presented on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The program will be presented by various departments of the Sunday school. The program will consist of recitations interspersed with instrumental and vocal music. Following the program the children will be presented with appropriate Christmas gifts.

Make Christmas Candles

Christmas candles of attractive forms can be made from shavings of old candle butts.

Left over candles are saved throughout the year. The wax is shaved from the wick, melted and poured into molds, with a piece of thick cotton twine, of the type used by butchers, used for a wick.

The wick is placed in the center of the wax as it is ready to set.

Such candles can be made in cup-cake pans and other receptacles.

White Elephant Bazaar

Does your club, social group or charitable organization need money after Christmas?

In many communities, disappointed gift-recipients have sponsored "White Elephant bazaars," at which all their unwanted Yuletide presents are brought together and sold at bargain prices. The receipts, of course, go to charity.

Instead of letting that unwanted tie, those unread books and those useless gadgets gather dust in your closets, get your group to auction them off. It serves a double purpose: You won't ever have to look at them again, and good causes are furthered.

Cozy Gift

You can make some pretty warm mittens from an old sweater. In bright gay colors, the children should love them. Take that old beat-up sweater and if it is faded dye it a pretty color with some all purpose dye in case synthetic fibers are mixed in with the wool. Make a paper pattern for the size you want and cut it out double on the sweater. Machine stitch each piece separately around the outside to prevent raveling. Turn and whipstitch or buttonhole stitch the two sides together in contrasting colored yarn.

Evergreen is Symbol of Life Eternal

By Arthur B. Meyer

Missouri Conservation Commission

For centuries mankind has regarded the evergreen tree as a symbol of life eternal. When the sere leaves of hardwoods fall in the icy winds of autumn the conifers stand, still fully dressed in living green, a mute promise that life has not fled, but only lies dormant for a season.

So also has the evergreen tree been gradually accepted as a symbol of Christmas, of God's gifts to man, including the promise of eternal life. The custom was adopted in Europe as early as the 15th century and allegedly reached America during the Revolutionary War, when Hessian soldiers erected Christmas trees to soften their homesickness.

The evolution of a tradition so widely accepted as the Christmas Tree could not help but have many versions. It seems reasonable to accept the idea that the first trimmings used to decorate the trees were replicas of foodstuff and small gifts. Later, candles were adopted to represent the stars of the wintry heavens which are so interwoven into the story of the Christ Child. However, regardless of the origins of the custom it is so firmly imbedded in our holiday celebrations that few persons consider Christmas complete unless an evergreen tree stands guard in dressed up splendor over the children's gifts and sends its pungent odor through the house.

The commercial production of Christmas trees is big business, in excess of 21,000,000 trees each year. Naturally, Balsam-fir and Douglas-fir share almost equal honors in making up the first 60% of the total, while Black Spruce and Red Cedar split the next 20%. A long list, including almost every species of evergreen tree, fills out the total.

Skyrocketing On Coffee Halts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—(P)—American coffee drinkers paid an extra $650,000,000 for their favorite brew as a result of "manipulation" of the coffee market during October and November, Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) said Wednesday.

But the senator said the alleged market rigging was "apparently not illegal," and he declared:

"The skyrocketing of prices has been stopped." Gillette is chairman of a Senate agriculture subcommittee which has been investigating the recent sharp rise in coffee prices and the cost of other commodities. Public hearings were suspended at the end of the day's testimony.

Summing up testimony before his committee, Gillette said:

"Evidence of definite manipulation of the coffee market in the months of October and November included the doubled trading or speculation, the doubled retail prices of coffee x x x and the disappearance of 100,000,000 pounds of green coffee."

All these factors he said, resulted in a "charge on American consumers' pocketbooks" of about $650,000,000.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEREETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEREETH at any drug store.

The names have been used in different forms by the postoffice department, the census bureau, the coast guard and other agencies, and by the board itself.

The towns, with the form used by the Postal Guide given first, include in Missouri—Gillman City, Gillman City or Gilman, Harrison county; Green Castle or Green-castle, Sullivan county.

Report Voting Favors Strike

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—(AP)—union official says scattered reports indicate Southwestern Bell Telephone company employees are voting heavily in favor of a strike.

The official, Vice President Frank P. Lonergan of Division 20, CIO communications workers, said his reports were strictly unofficial. The ballots are to be returned to the union's headquarters here by Tuesday.

A federal conciliator stepped into the picture yesterday in an effort to speed a settlement. Lonergan reported the contract talks have gotten nowhere and asserted the utility doesn't seem to want to make a move until forced to it.

The negotiations on a new contract began seven weeks ago.

Chief issues are wages, working conditions and pensions.

The CIO union, which claims it can legally call a strike at any time after such action is approved by the membership, represents some 50,000 Southwestern Bell employees in six states.

Fourteen Ask For Damages

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Paul Robeson, Negro singer, and 27 others today filed in federal court a $2,000,000 damage suit as the result of a disturbance which followed the singer's appearance at a rally near Peekskill, N. Y., several months ago.

The action was directed against two Westchester county veterans organizations and 14 other persons.

The plaintiffs asked for judgments ranging from $10,000 to $200,000 for alleged personal injuries, assault and deprivation of civil rights.

The suit also asked that the defendants and their officers, agents and employees be forever enjoined from "further conspiring and interfering with plaintiffs and others who hereafter may peacefully assemble in Westchester county for the purpose of holding discussions and assemblies."

Wife Number 16 Has Moved Out

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Dec. 15.—(AP)—J. F. Williams, 67, often called Iowa's "most-married man," has filed suit for divorce from wife No. 16.

In his petition on file in district court here today, Williams said the former Mrs. Louis Parker, of Cleveland, O., who became Mrs. Williams in 1946 following a mail romance, has left him.

Williams previously had reported her missing about six months after their marriage. She was found in a railroad station and returned to him.

But when she left him again several months ago, Williams said, her parting words were: "I wouldn't live with you in Paradise."

Williams married for the first time in 1904 and remained wed to one wife for 24 years. His other matrimonial ventures were relatively brief.

One wife married and divorced him four times in about four years.

Featherless Rooster to Dress

ONTARIO, Calif., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Sam, the featherless rooster of Mobile, Ala., will sport a tuxedo suit, come Christmas.

The gift is from Mrs. Anne Brown, who saw the goose-pimpled bird in an Associated Press wirephoto. Sam hasn't sprouted a feather since he hatched into a chilly world eight months ago.

Mrs. Brown wrote Sam's owner, Nick Hasselwander, offering to make a wardrobe. Hasselwander sent measurements, adding that Sam would appreciate a warm suit so he can "saunter out and see something of the world."

Carried Safe Away

HOUSTON, Mo., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Thieves carried away a 1000-pound safe containing between $400 and $500 in cash and checks from the Hayes Super Market here early today. Gibson Hayes, operator of the store, said burglars tossed a rock through a rear door glass to gain access to the building, then opened the door from the inside.

Sinclair Agents Meet

The Sinclair agents and dealers from the central part of Missouri had a meeting and banquet in the Pioneer Room at Dan's restaurant Wednesday afternoon. A talk was given by Earl S. Koonitz. A film on the "History of Wyoming," covering the commercial resources and agricultural growth of the state, was shown. There were about 25 present.

The deepest lake in North America is believed to be Crater Lake, Oregon.

Cleared in Slugging Case

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Andrew J. Cherry has been cleared for the second time on charges that he slugged a Sportsman's Park usher during a Cardinal baseball game last August.

A jury in the court of criminal correction acquitted him on a peace disturbance charge yesterday.

A similar charge against him was dismissed last September by a city police judge. Cardinal President Fred Saigh protested, and Mayor Joseph M. Darst ordered the case appealed to the court of criminal correction.

Cherry was accused of slugging William F. Gonza, a University of Missouri student who was working as an usher. An argument developed when Gonza ordered Cherry to move from a seat for which he had no ticket.

Truck Driver is Seriously Injured

STE. GENEVIEVE, Mo., Dec. 15.—(AP)—R. A. Brewster suffered serious internal injuries yesterday when the lumber truck he was driving was struck by a Frisco freight train at a grade crossing near here.

A cylinder of the locomotive was broken with the impact and the southbound train was delayed for about two hours. A replacement engine had to be brought in.

Brewster, who lives at River Aux Vases in Ste. Genevieve county, was taken to a Cape Girardeau hospital.

New Walkouts Are Reported

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—(AP)—New sympathy walkouts were reported today among telephone installers at Springfield, Mo., and Little Rock, Ark., Fort Smith and Texarkana, Ark.

From Springfield came word that 21 workers of Western Electric Co. stayed away from their jobs yesterday, but returned today.

In St. Louis, J. H. Brashar, president of the striking union, said, "At least 50 installers" have walked out in the three Arkansas cities. He could give no details.

The men left their jobs, he said, in sympathy with installers who have struck in St. Louis, Kansas City and Granite City, Ill. Members of Local 70, CIO American Communications Equipment Workers Union, they are protesting.

Western Electric's refusal to grant extra pay to installers transferred to a project in Kansas City. Brashar said when the walkout began that it may spread to all six states served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., which has an expansion program under way.

Steel Prices Are Going up

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Steel prices are going up. Will that mean that the price of autos, bed springs, refrigerators and baby's safety pins are going up, too? Has inflation started on its fourth round.

There are going to be a lot of hot words exchanged over the hike in the price of this basic commodity. Steel executives say higher prices of steel are simply the price of security. The fourth round wage-price spiral this year concentrated on pensions. At the end of the steel strike the unions won company-financed pensions. Steel companies say the cost of these funds must be added to the price of steel.

Union officials say they are outraged. They contend steel company profits are so high that the cost of the pensions could be absorbed by the companies without hurting them. And they cite the president's fact-finding board's report on the steel labor controversy, which they interpret as backing them up in this.

Instantly Killed

SIKESTON, Mo., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Freddie Joe Hazel 15, was instantly killed late yesterday when a pickup truck he was driving went out of control and overturned on a highway near Vanduser, Mo. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hazel of Vanduser. Norval Gibson, 23, who was riding with Hazel, suffered severe injuries.

Shoving Negroes From South

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(AP)—A Negro educator said today machinery and a shift from cotton to other crops is shoving Negro workers off the farm in the south. "The old South is in the midst of a revolution," said Dr. Ernest E. Neal, director of the Rural Life Council of Tuskegee Institute in Alabama.

(NEA Telephoto) DENIES RUMOR — Renzo Rossellini, brother of Roberto Rossellini, Italian film director, talks from Los Angeles by trans-Atlantic telephone to Roberto in Rome, concerning the rumored pregnancy of actress Ingrid Bergman. Resolution on Brannan Plan To Convention

Brannan did not speak at Federation's annual meeting, although he had asked Kline to appear. The principal speaker, a role usually reserved for the government's incumbent agriculture chief, was Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (R-NM), former secretary of agriculture.

Anderson told Federation delegates yesterday that farmers should "speak for themselves" first of all "by exercising their civic responsibility to take an active part in public affairs" . . . and through their own farm organizations.

Oppose Brannan Plan

As the Federation went into the final day of its three-day convention it was reported that more than half of the state farm bureaus were on record opposing the basic philosophy of the Brannan farm plan.

The Brannan Plan would let prices of perishable farm products seek their natural level. The government would make up the difference in subsidies if those prices failed to give farmers a pre-determined fair return.

Also scheduled on the closing day's convention was election of officers and election of members to the boards of directors.

Continue Search For Dead

No Mass Funeral

The direction of this investigation, he said, remains undetermined. At present, the mayor continued, the search effort remains in charge of the Iowa National Guard units at the scene. It seems unlikely any mass funeral would be held for the victims. Private arrangements for last rites already had been made by two families.

A Swift and Co., spokesman said the plant would be shut down "for some time."

Assistant Fire Chief Clarence Chappelle said last night he expected to find four more bodies in the debris. This figure was reduced to three today after one of the four missing persons reported he was safe.

Usual Order Is Reversed

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Here's the story the police say they were told yesterday by a man they booked as 25-year-old Robert L. Cole:

Three years ago when Cole was a trusty at the state penitentiary, where he was serving a term for forgery, two bloodhounds were lost in the swamps and he was sent to find them.

Reversing the usual order of things, the convict searched for the bloodhounds, but gave up after a couple of hours, and hot-footed it to New Orleans—and freedom.

Yesterday he was recognized by a prison guard, Tillman S. Smith, who was in town to get a truck-load of vegetables.

Officials Itch for DDT

SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—When city health director Dr. J. C. Geger ordered the janitor at the city health center to spray the balconies every month with DDT, he posted this explanation:

"We have pigeons. The pigeons sometimes carry psittacosis. They also carry mites, and, I regret to say, lice. Once in a while I have an itch. Then I have to scratch. The spray, therefore, is for everybody's protection around here, but mostly for my own."

HERO'S HAPPY HOUR—Plucky Mike Rector, who'll be five years old Dec. 23, is a happy hero, because he's going home for Christmas after more than a year of battling the agony of burns over 70 per cent of his body. On Nov. 12, 1948, two boys seized Mike and set fire to his cowboy suit. The doctors shook their heads. Seldom had anyone so badly burned lived. But they didn't give up. Neither did Mike. And now he hopes to leave Casualty Hospital, Washington, D. C., to go home for a few hours and see what Santa brought in response to the letter his sister, Rose, is helping him write.

Horror And Death On Ship

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 15.—(AP)—A story of horror and death aboard a blazing Dutch motor vessel was unfolded by seven weary survivors Wednesday as Coast Guard planes and vessels scanned the Atlantic for 16 others still missing. Eight survivors—one a badly burned stretcher case—were landed in a Coast Guard PBM rescue plane. The plane had picked them up from the American tanker Sparrows Point at a rendezvous on the southern tip of Great Abaco Island in the Bahamas. "All the other officers are dead," said R. Helms, chief engineer of the ill-fated motorship Doros who was the only white man in the group. The other seven were natives of Dutch Guiana.

Salon steward Edward Amzand said a "terrific explosion" occurred about 11 o'clock Monday morning. Cause of the explosion is unknown," he said. "The ship suddenly was in flames. In seconds the whole ship was afire. I ran to a lifeboat and helped put it in the water. "There were 24 men altogether, but I don't know what happened to all the rest of them. Lots of them jumped in the water and we picked up a couple in our lifeboat. Amzand, a youth of about 20 who was still wearing his white mess jacket, said he heard many of the crew scream "but I don't know what happened to them."

The smoldering hulk of the ill-fated vessel was sighted early today by a Coast Guard search plane. It radioed tersely: "No survivors sighted."

An empty lifeboat, believed from the Doros, was sighted about 40 miles south of the drifting hulk. Coast Guard officers said the search would be continued for the others as "long as there is hope."

Some Unusual Names To Confront Census Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Census bureau reported Wednesday it heard from parties named Ak, Puh and Hiteodomistockley Sopstain and is prepared for anything when it starts counting Americans' noses next April.

It also has heard from Mister Zyzzy. Junior Senior, Jr., wrote in to tell the bureau that: "My father, Junior Sr., has the same name as mine, but is not related."

As it gets ready for the 17th decennial census next year, the bureau is receiving about 3,600 letters each week, asking about records now in the bureau's files or volunteering information so the government will get everything just right next time.

Jennie B. Sloppy wrote in, and so did Pericola Zoppa, Easie Pace, Legal Tender Faircloth, Arizona butcher and O'Such Fitch.

William Williams told the bureau he'd prefer to go on their records as "Johnny Jones, because I have used it for years anyway."

Changes in family status are frequent subjects of correspondence. A man named Orange Grove notified the government he has now two children—Lemon Grove and Dill Pickle—and asked that the records be brought up to date.

Miss Hoggie Hair likewise reported her marriage to Bim Skins.

Mamie Mouse complained that the census bureau had changed her daughter into a son and wanted to know if that is going to make any difference.

Duma Best complains that she's really nine years older than the 1940 records show her to be.

Along with routine letters from Saffronia Rodent, Peter St. Peter and citizens named Brry, Uk and Millwaukee Wisconsin Kinzey, the bureau receives some really unusual communications written on cardboard, plaster board and paper bags.

One woman stripped off a big section of wallpaper from her home and mailed it to the bureau by parcel post. She explained that her father had written the date of her birth in one corner, and she needed the date verified so she could get an old-age pension.

The census officials still are puzzling over this one:

"There is also a mistake about me being born according to our statement of December 29. I was born and that is all I know about it, as my mother was away and I can't give you any more information."

Hesitant On Radio Permits

Decision As To Religious Groups Subject To Review

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—A Federal Communications Commission Examiner Wednesday tentatively refused to let either of two religious groups operate a proposed radio station in the Kansas City, Mo., area.

His decision is subject to the commission's review.

He turned down the Kansas City Broadcasting Co., saying its officers are "grossly deficient" in business matters. The company is headed by Evangelist Wendell Zimmerman.

The examiner said he could not grant a license for the same frequency to the other applicant, the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Independence, Mo., until the constitutional question of church-owned radio stations has been settled.

The FCC is now studying whether establishment of a special category of religious radio stations would be in violation of the first amendment forbidding the government to make laws respecting the establishment of religion. Following a decision on this point, the examiner said the Latter Day Saints could apply again.

Most of the 66-page report was taken up with discussion of the fitness of Evangelist Zimmerman to operate a radio station.

Zimmerman, besides being president of the Kansas City Broadcasting Co., heads the Kansas City Baptist Temple, which he organized.

The examiner said many persons testified against Zimmerman, charging him with bias against Catholics, Negroes and Jews. They said Zimmerman had sponsored an appearance of Gerald L. K. Smith, whom they accused of anti-semitic agitation. They said that to allow Zimmerman a radio station would give an outlet "for dangerous and strife-provoking propaganda."

But the examiner pointed out that many witnesses testified for Zimmerman. They said he did not personally advocate anti-minority views and that publicly and privately he had declared himself opposed to anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish and anti-Negro sentiments. Zimmerman stated that at the time he sponsored Smith's appearance he did not know of Smith's views about Jews. The examiner concluded that Zimmerman is "neither an associate of Gerald L. K. Smith nor an adherent to the anti-minority teachings attributed to Mr. Smith."

The examiner said that guilt by association has never been a principle of American jurisprudence and said he would not refuse Zimmerman a broadcasting license because of the allegations against him.

Neither Zimmerman nor other officials of the broadcasting company, the examiner said, knew enough about the business end of running a radio station.

MISSOURI JUNIOR VEGETABLE GROWERS TAKE FOUR NATIONAL CONTEST AWARDS

Missouri junior growers were named winners of four state championships in the 1949 Production-Marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association as the organization concluded its fifteenth annual convention in Washington, D. C., today.

State-wide honors were captured by one college student, a high school girl and two boys also attending high school. They were presented cash awards from the $6,000 scholarship fund provided each year by A & P Food Stores to encourage better production and marketing of vegetables by farm youths. Winners were George W. Maize, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen W. Maize of Pattonburg, Harrison County; 16-year-old Francis O. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orel L. Davis of Senath, Dunklin County; Don Carpenter, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller, Lawrence County; and Vera Johnson, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dewale of Miller, Lawrence County.

Other results announced by Prof. Grant B. Snyder of the University of Massachusetts, adult advisor to the association, included the awarding of the national championship and the top $500 scholarship to Russell L. Sears, Jr., 20-year-old grower of Cummington, Mass. Young Maize raised 27 varieties of vegetables on one and one-half acres of his father's 379-acre farm and realized a net income of $253.62 from his efforts. George is a freshman at Central College in Fayette and has been interested in vegetable growing since grammar school days. He was a $100 sectional NJVGA winner last year.

Francis Davis has many activities besides his garden project and won an award for being the outstanding 4-H boy in the county. His project covered an area 80 x 80 feet, on which he cultivated 15 kinds of vegetables for a gross income of $49.00. He is a sophomore in high school.

Young Carpenter used one acre of his parents' 40-acre tract. He concentrated all his efforts on cucumbers and harvested 1802 pounds which were sold locally for a gross income of $46.58. He is a freshman in high school.

Miss Johnson used one-half acre of her parents' 120-acre farm and raised beans and tomatoes. Much of her time was spent helping her mother with household chores, as well as all help needed for her mother's vegetable crop. Vera has been active at school where she is in the eleventh grade. She is quite a cook too, having captured a number of 'firsts' with her sweet yeast rolls.

Hunter Mistaken For Raccoon Shot

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 15.—(P)—A hunter, scratching his shoulder with a fur-lined glove, was mistaken for a raccoon and shot in the hand Wednesday.

State police said Cassimero Canelli of Corbin City reported that he shot his friend, John Becken, 54, of Sea Isle City, while the two were hunting near here today.

Canelli said his friend was behind a tree and just the fur-lined glove was visible when he fired.

Bingo Is the Password

CHICAGO—(P)—The forces of the law in this town crack down from time to time on various kinds of gambling. The latest target is bingo. A tip came to the Shakespeare Ave. police station that sounded suspicious. A big bunch of men had gathered in a hall. There was a peephole in the door. A guard would not admit anybody who didn't know the password.

Public Debt is Voter Concern

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said Wednesday the greatest concern of the voters is "the size of the public debt and the spending policy of the government."

This was his finding after a 13-week campaign in which he covered 75 Ohio counties. Taft said in a statement from his office here that he is convinced that there is no "slide toward socialism" among his constituents.

The Ohioan is a candidate for re-election to the Senate next year and made his tour as part of that campaign. His conclusions carry national weight because of his influence in shaping Republican strategy as chairman of the Senate GOP Republican policy committee.

"I do not think that workmen are by any means persuaded in favor of the socialistic, planned economy, hand-out state principles supported by the CIO and AFL leadership," Taft said.

He said the real danger of such proposals is that the bulk of voters will greet them with little interest.

Order Survey Of Sites At Denver

OMAHA, Dec. 15.—(P)—The office of the Missouri river division engineer said Wednesday it had been directed to survey possible sites at Denver for the proposed air force academy.

The order, from the chief of engineers in Washington, is the only one received thus far for such a survey in the Missouri river division, a spokesman said.

Bids for the cadet training center are being received through Dec. 31. Chamber of Commerce officials have announced they are planning a meeting Saturday to draft a bid on behalf of Omaha.

America's Children Are Coming of Atomic Age Faster Than Their Parents, AEC Discovers

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—America's kids are coming to atomic age faster than their parents.

In Providence, R. I., for instance, second-graders are writing papers on atomic energy which show a better grasp of the subject than the average man has.

Here are some of the things tots are writing on the atom:

"When we learn more about how valuable these atoms are, people will be very happy."

"Smart men called scientists study all about the atom. They tell us that there is a great power inside the atom. We call this power energy."

"Atoms have electricity. Some particles have minus charges. There are some particles that have no charge at all."

Another typical example of youthful eagerness to spread information on atomic energy is found in Mt. Baker High School of Deming, Wash. The pupils took it upon themselves to educate their elders on the subject. After they had learned all they could about it they gave a series of 18 lectures and demonstrations to civic and church groups, teacher organizations and to out-of-town schools.

These 45-minute lectures included ingenious displays and exhibits, which, according to U. S. Atomic Energy Commission officials, were exceptionally accurate presentations of the workings of atomic fission.

The AEC has just completed a survey of how much education on atomic energy is being provided for American youth. Considering the newness of the subject, its complexity, the secrecy surrounding it and the lack of simple literature, the report reveals that youngsters of all ages have managed to pick up an amazing amount of information on atomic developments.

More than 20 states have teacher-training programs aimed at creating instructors qualified to start regular courses on atomic energy in elementary and high schools. AEC officials believe that Iowa leads in this field. The report says:

"There is probably a more coordinated effort being carried forward in Iowa to integrate atomic energy into the classroom at all levels of education than in any other area."

Here are some examples of how atomic education is being given to high school students:

"In New York City the board of education requires its schools to adapt the scientific and social aspects of atomic energy in their courses of study in general science, biology, chemistry, physics, social studies and English."

"In Connecticut most schools are integrating atomic energy information in the chemistry and physics classes."

"In Arizona some high schools now study atomic energy in junior English classes."

Below the high school level, the AEC study found, there are extensive courses on the subject being taught in sixth, seventh and eighth grades in many school systems around the country. And there are many atomic energy courses, such as those taught in Providence, in the very low grades of many school systems.

Finally Weds Bride Who Disappeared 49 Years Ago

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15—(AP)—Forty-nine years ago red-haired young Martha Marie Ballard disappeared the night before she was to marry Noah Paddock.

Wednesday night they finally were married. Both are 71 years old.

Why did Miss Ballard leave for Denver Sept. 29, 1900, and get a job instead of sending her trunk to Noah's farm near Elm, Mo. the day before they were to be married?

"I have told Noah and he understands, and it's no concern of anyone else," she said today.

"It was a misunderstanding," Paddock said. "I understand and don't hold it against her. We both have more sense now."

Paddock, retired now, living on a one-acre place near Elm, 30 miles east of Kansas City, said he didn't see her again until he found her here in January, 1938.

Meanwhile Miss Ballard had returned to Kansas City and in 28 years as a practical nurse bought a small home.

Paddock said they visited a couple times in 1938.

"She was nice and friendly but didn't seem interested," he continued. "I had married a hometown girl in 1901. She died 17 years ago. I didn't go back to see Mattie, as they call her now, until 1939. She was cordial but no more."

Gas Forces 1,000 From Their Beds

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 15—(AP)—A suffocating fog of ammonia gas spread over a 20-square-block area before dawn Wednesday, forcing 1,000 persons from their beds.

There were no fatalities but five were hospitalized and scores overcame and made ill by the vapor which, in heavy concentrations, can kill.

The gas spread from a split pipe leading from a tank car filled with liquid ammonia. The liquid vaporized on hitting the air.

As the clouds of gas swirled out of the industrial zone into the adjoining residential area, eight police cars moved slowly through the district warning residents to get out. Many were removed to two churches opened to shelter the evacuees.

It was midmorning before residents were able to return to their homes.

Battalion Fire Chief Thomas Dolan said the tank car held enough ammonia to "kill everyone in the area."

S-C Tigers Play Kemper Friday Night

Conference Tilt Will be Played At Boonville

The Smith-Cotton high school cagers will journey to Boonville Friday where they will face the Kemper Military high school basketballers in a conference tilt, which will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Thirteen Tigers and the coaches will leave from Sedalia at 5:45 o'clock that evening. The Tigers have won every basketball game this season, except one in the CEMO Tournament, when they lost to Hannibal cagers, who won top honors in the tourney, leaving the Tigers with second place honors. The Tigers won three non-conference games, and were victorious over the Jefferson City Jays in a conference tilt.

Kemper Record

It will be the second CEMO league contest for both the Tigers and the Yellowjackets. Kemper dropped its first conference tilt in the hapless manner last week to Hickman High of Columbia 29-13. The Yellowjackets surged up against the undefeated Boonville Pirates last Tuesday, and led going into the last quarter, before the taller Pirates zoomed away to a 41-23 victory.

"Although we have been nosed out in our five starts so far," Coach Hugh Shacwelford of Kemper said, "we are coming along better, and should be much improved when our new boys get some experience." Only two of last year's lettermen are available on the Kemper squad this winter.

Last Game This Year

Friday night's game will be the last for both teams until after the Christmas holiday.

Coach James Ball said he would start the following Tigers: Bill Brown and Marvin Lankenau, guards; Bill Holst, center and Dale Ruffin and Ralph Walker, forwards. Others making the trip will be: Bill McCrary, Eddie Johnson, Bill Morgan, Bob Schravver, Tommy Menefee, Richard Lanning, Bill Cooper and Claude Murphy.

Woodruff Back As Baylor Coach

WACO, Dec. 15 — (AP) — Young Bob Woodruff, who recoult Baylor's sagging gridiron fortunes, will continue as head coach.

Less than a week after resigning because of friction with athletic director Ralph Wolf, Woodruff accepted the $12,000-a-year job back yesterday as Wolf became vice-president and general manager of the new Baylor stadium.

Woodruff quit Friday night and Wolf also resigned Saturday, stating he was doing so to "clear the atmosphere."

At the time a compromise had been worked out by the athletic committee under which Wolf would continue as athletic director but eventually would become stadium director.

The trouble between Woodruff and Wolf was never disclosed. The best reports were that Woodruff wanted to conduct the athletic department on a larger scale—and more expensively—than Wolf thought proper. There also were reports of differences over scheduling and the mode of travel used for the football team.

Announcement that Woodruff and Wolf would remain with Baylor—neither resignation had been accepted—came from W. R. White, president of the university. He said trustees had ratified action of the athletic committee and a special committee which met Monday.

Woodruff came to Baylor in 1947 after the football team had won only one game. Coach Frank Kimbrough had resigned under pressure. Baylor split even that year, took six the next season and won the Dixie Bowl over Wake Forest. This year the Bears finished second in the Southwest Conference with an 8-2 record.

Wolf has been at Baylor 28 years as athlete, coach and athletic director. His new job will involve operation of a $1,500,000 stadium to be erected before next football season. It will seat 40,000.

Hubbard 'Hi' Drops Two Games

Sedalia's Hubbard high school bowed graciously twice Wednesday night by dropping two hard fought basketball games. Both girls and boys games were played.

The girls met St. Steven's school of Kansas City and were edged out by a close score of 20 to 19. The high pointers were: for Sedalia B. Parks with eight and C. Burford with eleven for St. Stevens.

The boys trailed the Jefferson City Lincoln Lab high school with a final score of 40 to 30.

High point for Sedalia was H. Mason with eighteen, while F. Williams carried away high point honors for Jefferson City with twenty-one.

Hubbard will meet Lincoln high school of Springfield on the local court tonight at 8 o'clock.

Coaches Show Disapproval Of Cage Rule

Gives a Team Fouled A Free Shot and Possession of Ball

By Orlo Robertson

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15—(AP)—If the college basketball coaches have their way, this will be the first and last year for the rule that gives a team fouled both a free shot and possession of the ball in the last two minutes of play.

An Associated Press survey of many of the nation's ranging cage mentors, showed a decided disapproval of the rule put into effect this year with the hopes it would reduce intentional fouling in the waning minutes of the game.

A Few Favor Rule

A much smaller group said it is too soon to pass final judgment on the rule. A few favored different interpretations of the rule.

But of 36 coaches asked to express an opinion only Dr. F. C. (Phog) Allen came out wholeheartedly for it. The veteran University of Kansas coach would extend the two-minute rule to the entire game.

The rule calls for a time out while the free shot is being tried and until the ball is thrown into play from out of bounds by team fouled. The Skyline Conference lets the clock continue. The Big Ten permits two free throws on any foul by the defensive team in the closing two minutes with the ball remaining in play after the second shot, if missed.

Others including Clair Bee of Long Island University, Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky, Al Severance, Villanova, and Harry Rabinhorst of Louisiana State would adopt the professional rule. It calls for a jump ball at the foul line if the free shot is made and taken out of bounds if missed.

Joe Louis Toyed With Exhibition Opponents

DETROIT, Dec. 15 —(AP)—Retired heavyweight champion Joe Louis toyed with two opponents last night in a pair of five-round exhibition bouts that were more of a financial than a fistic success.

Louis had the same old deadpan expression as he chugged through his chores with Irish Johnny Flynn of Rochester, N.Y. and the veteran Roscoe Toles of Detroit.

The former heavyweight king's weight was announced at 225 but he looked to be even heavier. Flynn came in at 210 and Toles at 225.

A crowd of 9,257 paid a gross gate of $19,778.96.

Flynn did little in the way of fisticuffs while in with the Brown Bomber.

After a healthy boing the two decided to do a little fighting.

Farmer Jones A Real Sensation

Farmer Jones, Montgomery county, Arkansas, came to town with his little pig and all and furnished the sensation of all sensations at the National Guard Armory, Wednesday night. A farmer that he is, a farmer wrestler as he is billed, but anything but a "hick" when he climbs through the ropes and starts his feet, body and arms in action.

Incidentally Jones beat "Sky-High" Ross of Kansas City, and had the giant heavyweight all a dither when he became the victim of Jones famous "mule kick."

Two falls straight went to the farmer who gave a beautiful exhibition of how to handle yourself, especially your feet and legs. His first fall was won in 16 minutes and 39 seconds when he jumped high into the air wrapped his legs around Ross neck while the tall big boy stood on the outside of the ropes looking in. In the flash of a second he was inside the ring, flat of his back and Ed "Strangler" Lewis counting him out.

The second fall went to Jones who after being rather roughly handled by Ross resorted to his "mule kick" with his feet and practically knocked the Kansas Citian cold. His arms were pinned by Jones to the mat in eight minutes and 57 seconds.

In the main event Walter Sirosi of Montreal, Canada, who substituted for "Wild Bill" Longson, because the latter was ill in Kansas City, won the match from Dick Hatcher of Los Angeles, California. The first fall went to Sirosi after he used a series of body slams, the time being 17 minutes and 53 seconds.

The second fall went to Hatcher who succeeded in getting an Indian leg lock on Sirosi after five minutes and 53 second. The third fall period took five minutes and 25 seconds with Sirosi using a series of body slams to win.

The opening event between George Temple, Hollywood, Calif., and Jimmy Coffield, Kansas City, went to a draw with both wrestlers doing about everything in the book to try and win.

The next wrestling show is to be held on Wednesday night January 4 when Farmer Jones will return.

Sirosi in the final fall of his match received a cut on his forehead between the eyes. He was taken to the Bothwell hospital where Dr. E. L. Rhodes, Athletic Commission physician, took a stitch to close the wound. It was not serious.

Top Cagers Meet Tonight in N. Y.

By Ted Meier

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—College basketball's intercollegiate program gains momentum tonight with the appearance of Kentucky, NCAA champions, in Madison Square Garden, and the appearance of Southern California and Denver in a doubleheader at Buffalo.

Kentucky, which lost most of its stars by graduation, is paired against St. Johns of Brooklyn in the Garden feature game after CCNY plays Brooklyn college. USC, from the Pacific Coast, meets Canisius and Denver, from the Rocky Mountains, tangles with Niagara in the Buffalo twin bill.

There wasn't much doing from a national viewpoint last night with the exception of Howard Payne's 57-56 upset over Southern Methodist in the southwest.

Michigan, beaten by Toledo last Saturday, bounced back to wallop Butler, 73-47, and Illinois put on a 50-point spree in the second half to humble Arkansas 65-53.

In a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra Pennsylvania picked Maryland, 54-52, and Villanova trampled Tampa, 72-47.

In other games Nebraska beat Iowa Teachers 60-54, and Louis-

C. B. C. Victor Over Marshall By Two Points

Game Closely Contested From Its Start To Finish

The C. B. C. basketballers defeated the Marshall Independents on the Smith-Cotton court by a score of 62 to 60 Wednesday night. It was a nip and tuck game from the start to finish. The college boys pulled the game out of the fire in the final seconds of the game on field goals by N. Thompson and Bob Tipton and a free throw by G. Thompson.

The first quarter showed each team hitting the basket with regularity. Norman Thompson led the Sedalia scoring with 6 points and Purpose hit 6 for the Marshall cagers. The second period was a fast played 12 minutes of basketball with the C. B. C. boys out on top by a score of 29 to 28. Norman Thompson again led the Sedalia scoring with 9 points. Phillips hit 7 for the Marshall.

Visitors Had Lead

In the third period the Sedalia's lost their lead to the fighting crew from Marshall. The C. B. C. cagers also lost much of their rebounding power when Norman Thompson was taken out of the game because he had 4 fouls. But he came back in the game a few seconds before the quarter was over. The scoring in that quarter was evenly divided among several players on each team. The score C. B. C. 44 Marshall 47.

The fourth period provided the big thrill of the evening for the crowd when the Sedalia's were four points behind with one minute to play and came out on top as the final buzzer sounded. The big guns in the Sedalia attack were N. Thompson, Bob Tipton, and C. Buthe.

Norman Thompson was the high scorer for the game with 25 points. Bob Tipton hit for second high on the C. B. C. team with 13. Purpose was the high scorer for the Marshall team with 14 points to his credit.

The Harvey Brothers Harvesters defeated the Town and Country Shoe Factory team in the preliminary game by a score of 39 to 31.

George Marcum was high pointer with fifteen points. Masters collected fifteen for the Town and Country.

Burford was second high scorer for the Harvey's with eleven.

Tuesday night the Harvesters defeated Syracuse at Syracuse by a score of 49 to 46. John Mays was high point man for the Harvesters with 21 points.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—Billy Evans was sounding off just after the American league had refused to legalize the spitball.

"Something has to be done for the pitchers," Billy argued. "We all want them. No club has enough good pitchers. But in the last 15 years nothing has been done to give the pitchers a break. Everything has helped the batters. . . . They outlived freak pitches. They throw out a new ball every few minutes and now they've narrowed the strike zone. . . . When I was umpiring, I'd give the pitcher a new ball any time he'd ask for it, but not when the batter wanted one. The batters would demand a new ball on every pitch if you'd let them."

Billy, incidentally, didn't voice his arguments during the league meeting, nor did he dispute Tiger manager Red Rolfe's assertion that his club is pretty well satisfied with its pitching staff. . . . Expecting the trading dam to break any day now, Red said: "If we're going to help our club, it will have to be at first or second base. Of course, we wouldn't refuse a really good pitcher, but we won't trade an outfielder for an ordinary pitcher."

Hot Stove Stuff

Eddie Dyer won't confirm the report that the Reds offered him Ewell Blackwell in a deal, but he comments: "This would be a poor time to try to trade him. He hasn't pitched nine full innings since that kidney operation beat Los Angeles Loyola a 47-46, on a long shot in the last: 24 seconds.

Million Dollar Trading Session

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—The Boston Braves underwent the biggest shakeup but the St. Louis Browns pocketed the most cash in the million-dollar trading session that marked the major league baseball meetings.

The Browns obtained more than $200,000 in deals that sent Third Baseman Bob Dillinger and Outfielder Paul Lehner to the Philadelphia Athletics and Second Baseman Gerry Priddy to the Detroit Tigers.

In all, twenty-two players changed uniforms in addition to unnamed minor leaguers thrown in as part of certain trades.

Train Berths Too Small For Cage Players

Kansas Team is The Tallest in 33 Seasons

LAWRENCE, Kas., Dec. 15—(AP)—Phog Allen, who lost his fight to raise basketball baskets two feet, has come up with some sky-scraping players by way of rebuttal.

Some are so big it requires two Pullman berths to bed one man comfortably.

Phog's team this year is the tallest in his 33 seasons as head coach at the University of Kansas. For years he has campaigned to add a couple of feet to the 10-foot baskets. He feels it would "equalize the game" for tall and short players. But with little support in his campaign, he's turning to tall men.

Three of the players in a 13-man traveling squad occupied six berths on an overnight trip to Cincinnati, where they play tonight.

Headboards Removed

The headboards between Pullman berths had to be removed for Clyde Lovellette, 6 feet 9 inches, and Gene Petersen and Jack Carby, both 6 feet, 7 inches. The traveling squad also included such lofty fellows as Claude Houchin, 6-5, and Maurice Martin and Bill Hougland, each 6-4.

Allen, who has won or shared 18 championships in two conferences, the Missouri Valley and the Big Seven, earned his reputation with medium size players. Tallest man on Kansas' 1940 runner-up team to Indiana in the National Collegiate (N.C.A.A.) finals was John Kline, 6-foot 3-inch guard.

Tall Boys

Al Wellhausen, 6-7, who played for Phog in the late '30s, held the Jayhawk height record until Petersen, Carby and then Lovellette came along.

All of Phog's tall boys except Petersen and Houchin are sophomores.

The green Kansas team has won two of its first three starts. The Jayhawks beat Rockhurst, 55-34, were upset by Creighton of Omaha, Neb., 59-55, then trounced Purdue of the Big Ten 60-52.

The Kansans play the first of four games in the east tonight, meeting Cincinnati University Saturday by play Duquesne at Pittsburgh. Next Thursday it's Holy Cross in Boston and the windup comes against Springfield College at Springfield, Mass., Dec. 23.

"Donie Bush, the Indianapolis veteran, probably is the most useless lobby-bouncer in town. . . . A scout who doesn't want his name mentioned, says he'd like to pitch all day to Boston's high priced rookie, Sam Jehrore. "If you pitch with control and confidence, you can get him out. I'll be surprised if he hits more than 150," the guy says. "But if he hits on base, he'll kill you with that speed."

Another reported "No Dice" deal: Andy Pafko for Herman Wehmeier. The Reds wouldn't give up the pitcher. . . . Hank Greenberg discloses that Joe Gordon's disagreement with the Indians originated when Joe "thot" he had an agreement with Bill Veck to get his release. "What Bill said was 'We'll talk it over,'" Hank explains.

Trading Of Players In Cash Deals

Million Dollars Worth Of Swaps Are Announced

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals have traded outfielder Ron Northey and second baseman Lou Klein to the Cincinnati Reds for outfielder Harry Walker and a minor league player to be named.

Walker, who was batting champion of the National League in 1947, hit an even 300 last season while playing 328 games with the Chicago Cubs and Reds.

Northey hit 260 in 90 games for the Cardinals, and Klein hit .219 in 58 games after reporting to the St. Louis club in mid-season. He played in the Mexican league several years and was reinstated by Commissioner Chandler in his general amnesty to the jumpers.

By coincidence, this was the second time in three years that Walker and Northey figured in the same deal. The Cardinals swapped Walker to Philadelphia in '47 for Northey.

Six Man Trade

By Jack Hand

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—The baseball trade dam burst today under pressure of a million dollars worth of deals including a jolting six-man swap between the New York Giants and Boston Braves.

Here are the big ones in the last 24 hours:

1. Outfielder Willard Marshall, outfielder-third baseman Sid Gordon, shortstop Buddy Kerry and pitcher Sam Webb of the Giants to the Braves for shortstop Alvin Dark and second baseman Eddie Stankey.

2. Second baseman Gerry Priddy of the St. Louis Browns to Detroit for pitcher Lou Kretlow and cash in excess of $100,000.

3. Third baseman Hank Majeski of the Philadelphia A's to the Chicago White Sox for pitcher Ed Klemm.

4. Third baseman Bob Dillinger and outfielder Paul Lehner of the St. Louis Browns to the A's for shortstop Billy Demars, third baseman Frank Gustine, outfielders Ray Coleman and Rocco Ippolito and $100,000.

5. Pitcher Bill Voiselle of the Boston Braves to the Chicago Cubs for infielder Gene Mauch and cash.

6. Outfielder Marv Rickert of the Boston Braves to Pittsburgh for cash and an unnamed minor league player.

7. Outfielder Ron Northey and infielder Lou Klein of the St. Louis Cardinals to Cincinnati for outfielder Harry Walker and an unnamed minor league player.

Under this flood of action in the player mart, the majors' decision to toss out the controversial bonus rule was almost overlooked.

So was the big leagues' vote to give Commissioner A. B. Chandler a boost in pay from $50,000 per year to $65,000 in the remaining years of his contract which expires in April of 1952.

The majors were deadlocked on the bonus question until Commissioner Chandler cast his decisive ballot with the American league for repeal. The matter now goes back to the minors for reconsideration. Best information is that the minors will be able to muster the required three-fourth vote in a mail poll.

$30,000 WORTH — The Cleveland Indians gave the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League $30,000 and five players for Hal Saltzman, 24. A big right-hander, Saltzman won 23 while losing 13 with a sixth-place Triple A outfit.

HOLY YEAR:

Prices and Traffic Jams Pose Problems for Rome

By Frank Brutto

AP Newsfeatures
VATICAN CITY — Taking to heart lessons of past Holy Years, the Central Committee for the 1950 Jubilee is endeavoring to keep costs for pilgrimages as low as possible and to protect the pilgrim from profiteers, swindlers and sellers of gadgets.

It has also entered the market to provide pilgrims as many facilities as possible at controlled prices.

Thus, pilgrims will benefit from reduced transportation rates, low priced room and board and low priced excursions. Their pilgrim ticket — contained in the pilgrim's envelopes that are distributed through national Holy Year committees at a price ranging from about 80 cents in Italy to $3 in the United States — will entitle them to visit the Vatican museums. Negotiations are underway to obtain reductions for visits to other Italian museums. The pilgrim's envelope — millions of them have already been distributed — contains a Holy Year booklet, pilgrim's insignia and a guide of Rome.

The central committee's efforts aim at avoiding as much as possible the modern counterparts of experiences of centuries past when foot-sore, weary pilgrims were victimized by innkeepers along the way, sometimes robbed and finally, when they reached Rome, subjected to sky-high prices. Chroniclers of the first Jubilee of which there is definite record, that of 1300, tell that food became scarce at the third month but that Pope Boniface VIII took quick measures. He ordered the nearby towns in the hills near Rome to load passing pilgrims and their donkeys and horses with food.

In 1575, Pope Gregory XIII built extensive stalls to shelter horses and donkeys during the 11th Jubilee. He also prohibited innkeepers from raising their prices.

For the 1950 Holy Year 21,458 beds have been provided the Holy Year committee has conferred with air lines, some of which have already granted reductions and with shipping lines. Reductions have been granted by railroads in Italy, France, Austria, Germany, Spain and Switzerland, these ranging — depending upon the number of pilgrims in each group — from 20 per cent for single travelers in Germany to as high as 60 percent for groups of 750 or more pilgrims in Italy.

In Rome, buildings to house pilgrims have been loaned by the Vatican and by Italian state authorities. Others have been obtained from monasteries and convents and in addition, "Peregrinatio" has contracted with private builders for construction and furnishing of buildings — about $3,000,000 coming for this from ERP funds of which one-fourth will be returned at the end of Holy Year.

Controlled prices for rooms (subject to change if there are sharp fluctuations in currency) range from about $1.35 a day for a room, with single bed to about 70 cents for a room in which there are more than five beds.

Prices of meals range from about $3 to about $2.50. Prices include breakfast, lunch and dinner. Conducted, price controlled tours will be offered.

Sale of gadgets has been prohibited in St. Peter's square, but Monsignor Sergio Pignedoli, secretary of the central committee, has warned that the control of souvenirs, many of which, he said, "usually are cheap and in bad taste," will be difficult.

Traffic was a problem in the first recorded 1300 Holy Year. One of the measures of mankind's progress since then will be the airline flights that will speed 1950 pilgrims to Rome in a few hours from all parts of the world — the first winged pilgrimage in the centuries old history of Holy Years.

Meanwhile, the construction of Rome's vast marble-faced Central railroad station, begun under Mussolini's regime and interrupted by the war, is nearing completion. A special force of 2,000 metropolitan police, many of whom know or are learning foreign languages, will help handle traffic.

Some Holy Year chroniclers write of a traffic jam of Christmas eve, 1299, which opened the 1300 Jubilee, as the first one

Mechanized Gift Kettle

The Salvation Army's familiar Christmas kettle hanging on a tripod is being replaced by the mechanized "gift" kettle wagon demonstrated by William Bendall at Albany, N.Y. He's now a sort of disc jockey, playing Christmas music records over an amplifier concealed in the wagon.

solved by establishing one-way routes.

Thousands going to and from Saint Peter's basilica jammed the Castel Sant'Angelo bridge (then known as St. Peter's bridge). It was quickly handled by setting up a barrier along the middle of the span and dividing traffic.

In the streets of Rome crowds were such that women and children sometimes were trod underfoot and in peril of their lives.

In the 1450 Jubilee, the throng got so thick on the Saint'Angelo bridge sometimes as late as three in the morning that infantrymen armed with "rakes" pried the crowd loose.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round
Snyder And Eccles Are Asked To Cease 'Public Squabbling'
 By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—The inflation row between Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and Federal Reserve dynamo Marriner Eccles attracted headlines a few days ago. But when the two men met behind the closed doors of a Senate committee, the final results of the feud were hushed up.
 It was Snyder who, perhaps knowing he would be no match for the shrewd and experienced Eccles, insisted on a closed-door meeting. However, here is what happened.
 Present at the Senate session was Tom McCabe, popular, easygoing Federal Reserve chairman who agrees with Snyder on most things, and who pleaded with both Eccles and Snyder to cease their "public squabbling" because of repercussions on business and the stock market.
 Eccles shot back that stock-market reaction to his dispute with Snyder was far outweighed by the future economic and financial welfare of the nation. It would be better to have a show-down now, public or otherwise, he said, rather than wait until inflation hits us.
 "The press has made this a personal dispute between Secretary Snyder and myself, but it's not that at all," Eccles declared. "It's a question of deep, fundamental policy that affects the future welfare of every man, woman and child in the United States. The Federal Reserve system cannot adequately carry out its obligation to control inflationary trends while the Treasury continues to borrow at fixed, low interest charges."
Government onds Dumped
 The interest rate (now averaging about 2.2 per cent on long- and short-term government securities) should be somewhat higher, Eccles contended, to discourage dumping of government bonds by banks, insurance companies and other big purchasers. Also, it should be more flexible, he argued, so the Federal Reserve board could use it as a lever to prevent either an overexpansion or a tightening of bank credit.
 Interest rates on government securities naturally influence the rates on commercial loans, Eccles pointed out, and therefore the quantity of such credit—which the Reserve system is expected to control.
 "Well, the Treasury has obligations, also," argued Snyder. "Let the interest rate go up on government bonds and there will be a howl from farmers and other groups, who will then have to pay higher financing charges on private loans and mortgages."
 Turning to Senator Douglas of Illinois, chairman of the meeting, Snyder remarked that Congress was chiefly responsible for inflation trends.
 "Inflation originates in the Congress," he commented, tartly. "If Congress votes to appropriate great sums of money and then doesn't increase taxes to balance this spending, you are making inflation. You can't build up big deficits without taking risks."
Robbing Peter
 The Treasury chief added that the low interest the government was paying on its bond issues represented that much of a saving to the taxpayer and helped to balance the budget. However, Eccles shot back that it did nothing of the kind, but was a rob-Peter-to-pay-Paul policy that actually cost the taxpayers more in the long run.
 Low interest rates on government bonds often lead to dumping by big investors, who prefer to reinvest their money in less secure, but more profitable commercial loans, he explained. Since the Federal Reserve System is required by law to buy up the bonds dumped on the open market, this further increases national bank reserves—against which more inflationary money is then issued.
 The amount of money the Treasury is saving now by its fixed, low interest rates, is only a pittance compared with the future cost of inflation—if Snyder continues his present policy, Eccles warned.
Merry-Go-Round
 George Craig, first World War II vet to command the American Legion, had four years active combat service, and is really fighting in peace for the democratic ideals we had in war. . . . Courageous Congressman Andy Biemiller of Wisconsin deserves credit for taking Judge Armstrong's "bonus-for-bigotry" foundation off of the government's tax-exempt list. . . . U.S. Ambassador James Clement Dunn, now in Rome, is angling for the highly prized post of Ambassador to the Court of St. James. . . . Sen. Pat McCarran now thinks he is almost as important as the President. When McCarran returned to Washington last week, the entire staff of the Senate Judiciary committee was lined up waiting to greet him like a returning potentate. . . . Avra M. Warren, now American Ambassador to Finland, will be the next U.S. envoy to Pakistan. . . . The Navy has just developed the world's most powerful airplane engine. It will outfly even the fastest Russian jet. . . . A long-suppressed feud between Secretary of Defense Johnson and Atomic Energy Chairman David Lilienthal is about to break into the open. . . . The real estate lobby has a new device for killing rent controls. It is fixing up a list of vacant apartments in overcrowded Washington exclusively for Congressmen who want to rent—just to show there's no housing shortage.

Airline Lobbyist
 You've got to hand it to Pan American Airways for being versatile when it comes to lobbying. All during the 80th Republican Congress they depended on GOP Senator Brewster of Maine and Sam Pryor, former GOP committee-man from Connecticut, to do their lobbying. In fact, only one Democrat, Carroll Cone, was on their lobbying payroll, and prior to November 1948 he was expected to exit after the elections.
 Immediately after the elections, however, Carroll Cone, Democrat, went up in value to Pan American, and he may now become a vice president.
 But in addition, Clark Clifford, soon to leave the White House for the law-lobbying business, will become the brightest star in Pan Am's lobbying army.
 NOTE—Pan American has just put across a neat piece of lobbying with the Civil Aeronautics Board, by which it gets one foot in the door on the route to Rome. This route belongs to TWA. But Pan Am used the excuse of carrying Holy Year pilgrims, and CAB gave it a special route to Rome. It will be interesting to see whether the route is surrendered after Holy Year is over.

We Shouldn't Judge Former Actions by Present Attitudes
 By Bruce Bioassat

A lot of people, including some would-be historians who ought to know better, often fall into an easy error of thinking that distorts past events and can lead to injustice.
 The mistake, whether consciously made or not, is this: reflecting present attitudes and conditions back to cover former times when the climate of history actually was quite different.
 In the last year or two, for example, the jitters we've suffered about Russian intentions have led many of our citizens to dig into earlier chapters on relations between us and the Soviet Union.
 Frequently any evidence of contact or dealing with the Russians is greeted as automatic proof of disloyalty to the United States. Certainly we must take a grave view of any relations that amount to espionage or general subversion. But the line between such activities and other kinds of contact is not always well drawn.
 That's where the error in thinking comes in. Many forget that Russia was our wartime ally, that in those hard days of 1943 to 1945 it was considered not only proper but downright fashionable to truck with the Soviets. To look back upon countless events placed against this backdrop and condemn sweepingly all who made contact with the Russians is hardly sensible.
 Likewise, relations with the Soviet Union of the 1930's are sometimes misjudged through similar error. Only in 1933 had we finally given diplomatic recognition to the Russian Communist regime, and Americans generally were not overjoyed at what they read of Soviet domestic and foreign activities. But no one thought Russia the menace it is considered today. It had joined the League of Nations and was working eagerly for "collective security."
 This habit of reflecting current attitudes back into the past is not limited to matters affecting the Russians. Ordinary citizens and historians do it all the time.
 One of the most common practices is to misjudge the moral temper of a period. Biographers looking at late 19th century United States like to talk about the "robber barons," a phrase intended to denote the wickedness of many leading businessmen of the time.
 But as the more discerning historians point out, the events and figures of that period must be viewed in their own setting. Much that we would condemn today was not regarded as reprehensible then. We might criticize a moral code that seemed to condone acts we think are evil. But we can't fairly gauge individual behavior in 1885 by the standards of 1950.
 It's like trying to appraise Chicago as if it were New York or New Orleans. To understand a city you have to know its climate, its history, its economic basis, its cultural roots. So it is with a moment in history. The events of that moment must be measured against the background that gave rise to them—not by the attitudes of another day.

Many a Wife is Responsible For Husband's 'Education'

"Wife and Recording Machine Provide Education by Proxy," says the headline over a story about a Chicago housewife who lugs a recording machine to University of Chicago lectures three times a week so that her husband, who has a full-time job, can get an advanced degree without attending classes.
 Without benefit of a recording machine a lot of husbands today are getting an education by proxy, though they may not know it.
 In many a household Mama is the one who "keeps up"—and gives Papa the benefit of all she learns.
 She may do most of the reading for the family, passing on such bits of information as she thinks Papa will find interesting or usable.
 She is very likely the one who studies up on child psychology and tells Papa just how the experts say Junior should be handled—whether she handles him their way or not.
 She studies up on decorating—and in improving her own taste, in time, changes her husband's ideas.
Mama Often Provides The Ideas
 If she bets interested in gardening she joins a garden club and pretty soon is giving Papa a course in flower growing.
 And, of course, she keeps him well informed on what is going on in the neighborhood, the school and the community.
 The old phrase "my husband says" is fast being replaced by "my wife was telling me"—though perhaps the men aren't aware of what a significant change that really is.
 Yes, a lot of husbands today are getting a well-rounded education by proxy simply because their wives are getting out and learning things on their own—and bringing home a lot of new ideas.

The Doctor Says—
Children Should Wash Hands Often to Get Rid of Pinworms

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
 Written for NEA Service
 There are a number of different animal parasites commonly known as worms which lodge and grow in the intestinal tract. One of the most common is called pinworm or seatworm.
 Infection with pinworms is most common in children, especially in large families or in children living in institutions. It is comparatively rare in the children of families in which separate bedrooms are used. The reason for this is that the worms frequently contaminate the bed linen, pajamas and similar objects and are readily picked up by those who come in contact with such bedding or garments. The close association of children in an institution or when several use the same bedroom, therefore, aids in spreading the worms.
Itching Is Intense
 The eggs from these worms are laid as a rule on the skin and mucous membrane near the outlet of the bowel. This frequently causes intense itching. Sometimes the itching is so severe that it produces nervousness, sleeplessness, and even convulsions in small children. The accurate diagnosis is made by taking swabs from the area which the worms inhabit and examining the material under the microscope.

 gesture of self-defense. Now, as John spoke, I sensed a new liberation.
 "You do as you please," he went on, turning to me, "and ignore the remarks. Come on, darling, we'll get you a good ginger ale before you die of thirst."
 AS we approached the refreshment table, I suddenly remembered that we hadn't told anyone of our new housing lead.
 "That's a pretty good neighborhood," Janet Grayson said, after I made our announcement. She and Hank would be needing a place of their own in another few months, and it was obvious that she had already been brushing up on locations.
 "I hope you get it," Bob said sincerely, "and if there's anything I can do, just let me know."
 Alec and Gert Shaw promised to come over and answer the telephone for us when we wanted to go to a movie.
 "That's right," Janet said, "you need a baby sitter for a doctor's telephone. You'll find yourself rather tied down."
 John laughed. "Who'll call?" he asked. "I don't even have an office yet, or a patient, either."
 THE next morning, of course, we overslept, but soon after we did awaken we were heading for Longview Road.
 As we neared our destination, I could see that we were in a mid-dling part of town. Not that King Midas had any relatives there, but a careful appraisal assured me that this wasn't Tobacco Road, either.
 The apartment houses on either side, were high and well kept, and the children crowding the streets were noisy and messed, but not in rags. No. 42, the house on the corner, was only one block and a half from the subway station, and a cross-town bus stopped at the far east side. With quick sighs of relief, we both checked off "location" and stopped still in front of the building.
 We both noticed the black and white sign, in the street entrance of the ground floor apartment, which said: "Four room apartment for rent: Inquire Superintendent in rear."
 John obediently set off for the rear, while I waited impatiently up front. Restlessly, I tried the street door, and to my surprise, it opened.
 The invitation was too pointed to ignore.
 There was a short entrance hall leading ahead into a medium-sized foyer about six feet wide and 12 feet long. On the right of the foyer were two doors leading into two large rooms. In the center of the foyer's back wall, there was the opening for the unusually large kitchen, while to the far left was a little hall with a bedroom and bath off of it. The entire apartment was immaculately clean.
 So engrossed was I in examining the place, that I never even noticed John's entrance with the superintendent's wife, until a voice behind me asked, "Like it?"
 I JUMPED and turned around. "Darling," I nearly hugged him in my excitement. "Isn't it wonderful? Isn't it perfect? Can't you just see us living here, John?"
 The superintendent's wife, who until then had seemed bored with the routine of showing a vacancy, smiled.
 "Newlyweds?" she asked, as if stating a fact.
 I grinned back at her. "Doesn't it show like a rash, Mrs. —"
 "Lang," the superintendent's wife replied. She was a heavy-set woman, but with a surprisingly young-looking face, and kind, bright, blue eyes. As we stood laughing at each other, I felt I had made a new friend.
 "Oh yes," she said merrily, "when you're married over 20 years like me, you can always spot it when it's brand new."
 "A whole month," I told her, "next week."
 "Tell you what," Freda said, when she heard how we had looked and looked for a place to live, "this is a good apartment for a doctor. Feel here before, Dr. Trent, do you know him?" We shook our heads, no. "Well, anyway, he did fine here. Had to move just because they were having twins. They were newlyweds also when they moved in, but a lot older than you two."
 We opened closets and looked in cabinets and even Freda joined in the fun of planning the layout.
 Suddenly I stopped short. "For Heaven's sake," I remembered. "My mother said not to seem over-anxious or they'd quote the highest price. We spilled the beans!" John laughed. "Two big financiers," he said, "that's us."

Nursery Set Gets New Games

For family fun — "Skudo," a new board game with turntables at each starting post, adding excitement.

AP Newsfeatures

The youngest set can join in the family games this Christmas, even without diplomas in reading and 'ritin' and rithmetic.

New game techniques have been worked out which permit the kindergartners to play right along with their older brothers and sisters, as serious competitors and not merely kibitzers.

"Over the Garden Wall" is a new idea in games, translating the problem of gardening into competitive fun for pre-school children as well as their elders. Players draw cards representing pictures of various fruits and vegetables from a pile and "plant" them in the rows indicated in their individual gardens. Just like real gardeners they encounter difficulties with weeds, cutworms and rocks (represented by cards) which, when drawn force removal of the fruit and vegetable cards already planted. Offsetting these obstacles are "grow" cards representing sunshine and rain. The first player to fill his garden completely is the winner.

The trend to "real life" situations for family games is evidenced by a variety of card and board games based on traffic hazards and safety rules. Also translated into fireside versions are the techniques of football, baseball, hockey and basketball.

Vocational interests are stimulated by a series of games dealing with world trade, politics, real estate, oil, stocks and bonds. A new twist in board games is "Skudo," which uses turn tables at each starting post to add obstacles and adventures as players move toward "home."

Detective story addicts will enjoy "Clue," a new crime detection game from England, complete with miniature weapons such as a lead pipe, knife, revolver, rope, wrench and candlestick. The object of the game is to determine which of six suspects is guilty, what room was the scene of the crime and what instrument caused the death.

Because she like to draw funny animals, pretty Lorraine Miller finds herself a tycoon at 23.

As head of Lorraine Miller, Inc., she is turning out little girls' accessories that are being sold all over the country, undoubtedly destined to be prize packages on the Christmas tree.

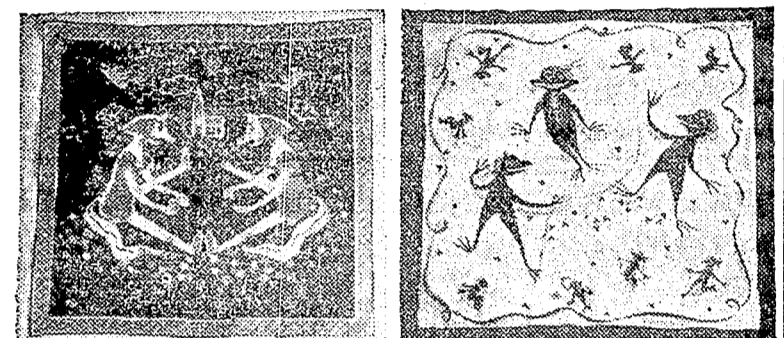

Her giddy animals in unlikely costumes cavort over scarfs, handkerchiefs, bath towels and handbags that delight the hearts of the pigtail crowd, aged 7 to 14.

And even grown-ups have been known to yearn for them.

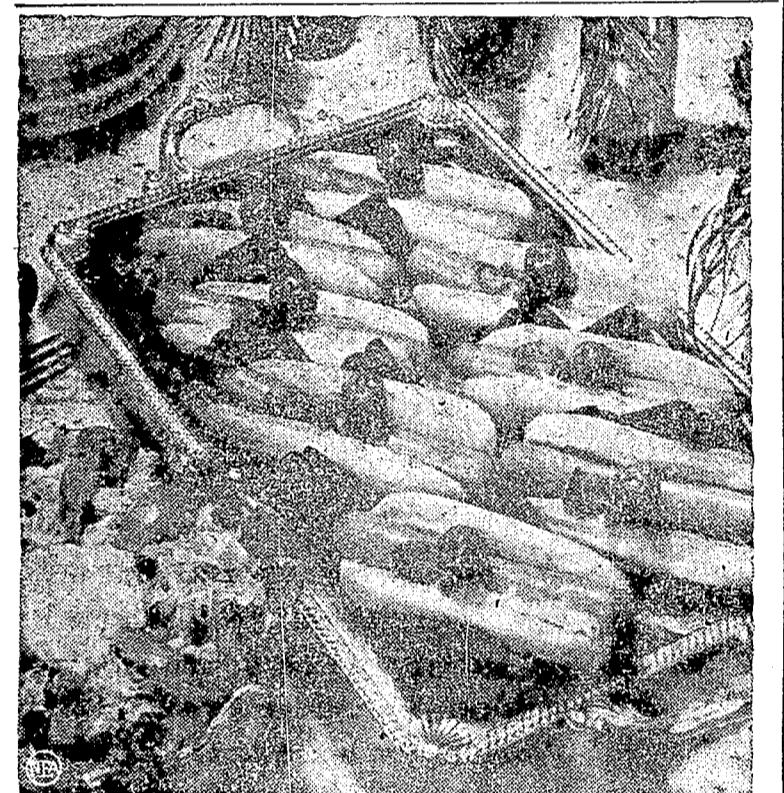

Among Lorraine's pet characters are horses seated in Victorian bathtubs, foxes dancing in ballet slippers, frisky frogs and fillies wearing aprons and scarfs.

Lorraine hails from California, where she designed textiles for Dorothy Liebes before coming to New York to seek — and find — her fortune. Says she:

"I decided to do something for the 7 to 14-year-olds, because it seems to me that is the neglected age."

Who's Zoo — Two of Lorraine's pets — the frivolous fillies and the frisky frogs, on scarfs and hankies.

TEEN-AGE PARTY—Swank franks and chilled bottles of fizz will make up the ideal teen-age party.

Sedalians 'Good Neighbors'

You don't have to live next door to be a "good neighbor" as evidenced Sunday when a group of Sedalians aided in extinguishing a farmhouse fire about a mile and a half east of Knob Noster.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy White of 1214 East Tenth, Sedalia, and their two sons, Edwin and Earl, accompanied by a student from Marshall, were driving along the highway Sunday afternoon when they spied flames shooting along the wall of a farmhouse near Knob Noster. They immediately stopped and soon a group of about six other men joined them to form a bucket brigade and to extinguish the flames.

Three pet dogs were released from the house and the extent of the fire damage was estimated at seventy-five dollars.

The owners were not at home at the time and probably are wondering who their good neighbors were. The other car which stopped to aid was from Kansas City.

Since the advent of wireless, later radio and then television, hardly a day goes by without some new technical word coined for the language.

Big Bend National Park was so named because it lies in a huge U-turn in the Rio Grande River in Texas.

Santa and the MAGICIAN

Chapter 10
A PRESENT FOR HENRY

HENRY ran back to Santa Land as fast as he could. Mr. Dilly and Serena were waiting for him in Santa's cottage.

"I've got it! I've got it!" cried Henry handing the wand to Mr. Dilly.

"Thank goodness!" cried Mr. Dilly. "When we woke and found you gone I did not know what to think. I couldn't come after you because Mrs. Claus asked me to stay and watch her cakes."

"Happy dippy," broke in Serena. "You never seen such cakes as they are making for tomorrow's party. Come, boy, there are spoons to lick!"

"No, no," protested Mr. Dilly. "Tell us first how you found the wand."

So Henry told them about the strange Wiggle Wagglies and how he feared them because of their fierce manners.

"Well, they can't be very bad since they gave you the wand," said Mr. Dilly.

Then he took the wand and put it in Santa's little black box. He felt wonderfully happy. "Now Santa never need know it was gone," he said thankfully as he shut the box and returned it to the corner. Neither he nor Henry dreamed that it wasn't Santa's wand but the Wiggle Wagglies' wand which Zezop had wickedly traded.

"Now, come into the kitchen," said Mr. Dilly. "Mrs. Claus has left us to watch her cakes while she is at the ice house tending the ice cream."

WHAT cakes they were! As large as wash tubs and smelling so sweet a boy could hardly stand if he wanted a piece so badly. On the tables were great bowls of frosting: caramel, coconut, chocolate, orange, mocha.

And sure enough there were spoons to lick and Henry licked them.

Presently Mrs. Claus came in and said, "Come with me, Henry. I need your help."

She took him to the ice house — which really was a big house made of cakes of ice. There were fourteen ice cream freezers — each as big as a cement mixer.

"My," said Mrs. Claus. "I don't know how I'll get everything ready on time. I still have the favors to make. I do wish you would stay here and keep tending the ice cream until it tastes right to you. Then turn off the freezers."

What a job for a boy! With spoon and saucer in hand Henry moved from freezer to freezer, tasting as he went.

By then it was time to turn off the freezers, which was a lucky thing for Henry, I think. He came out of the ice house and went to the toy shop nearby.

What confusion! The little Santa Land folk worked madly at their benches, putting heads on dolls, blowing up footballs, driving nails into wagons, painting tops, and a hundred other jobs which had to be done before Christmas.

As they worked they sang and whistled and sometimes even dropped everything while they danced a jig on the work table. Of course this slowed things up a little but it made them happy and of course only truly happy people can make good toys.

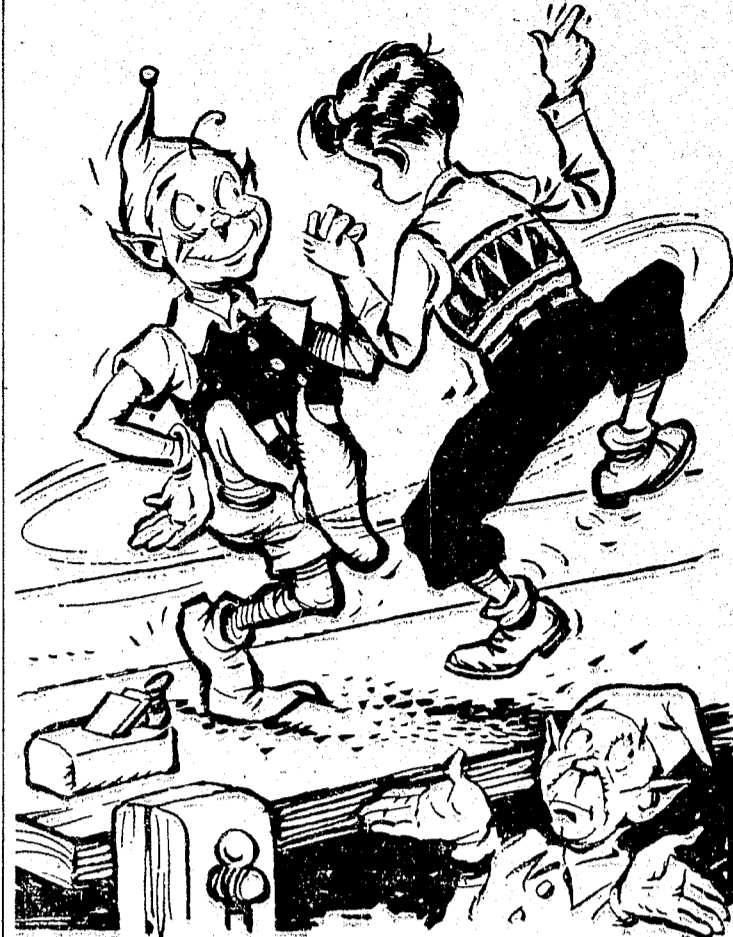

Still, it made old Patrick Tweedleknies furious. He stomped around the shop pounding his fists on the tables.

"We might as well give up Christmas," he stormed. "No one does any work except me. Stop that dancing! Stop that noise!"

No one paid the slightest attention. Instead, a funny little brownie with enormous feet saw Henry and darting to his side he snatched his hands and led him into a jig.

Tweedleknies threw up his hands. "The party has started already, it would seem," he said sourly.

"Of course it has," cried a lovely fairy and before Tweedleknies

could help himself she had caught his arm and led him into the dance!

Then everyone joined in and what a sight it was to see as they all leaped and hopped from table to bench to floor, round and round the shop, with Patrick Tweedleknies the liveliest of them all.

Finally, gasping for breath, Henry said he must leave, for Mr. Dilly would be wondering where he was.

"Wait, wait," cried Patrick Tweedleknies hobbling up and taking Henry's arm. "That was the merriest dance I ever had, boy, and you were the cause of it. Here, now, here's a little Christmas gift for you."

He handed Henry a tiny box wrapped in tissue and tied with red ribbon.

Henry was so happy and so surprised he could hardly keep his fingers steady as he pulled eagerly at the ribbon.

But Tweedleknies shouted, "No, no!"

Henry looked up in dismay. "Do not open until Christmas!" said Tweedleknies sternly but giving Henry, all the same, his very nicest smile.

Next: The Party.

New Method To Dry Flour

Denver—Your cake and bread may taste better soon because of a new method for drying the flour you use.

Flash-drying reduces the amount of water normally found in flour, about 14 per cent. With moisture reduced as low as desired, flour can now be stored for long periods of time without spoiling. Bacteria and fungi are attracted to moist flour.

This low-moisture flour will be especially valuable to the armed forces. It will also be used in cake mixes. The process was developed at the Industrial Research Institute, University of Denver.

"Of course, you can get low-moisture flour by drying it in an oven," explains Prof. Dent C. Davis, chemical engineer and supervisor of the research project. "But flour dried this way doesn't have any good baking properties. When heated to 170 degrees Fahrenheit or more, there is a damaging change."

With the flash-drying process, Professor Davis stated, the water is "flashed" or rapidly vaporized from the flour in a few seconds. During this time there is no change in the flour.

The flour is dried in a stainless steel structure shaped like a mammoth ice cream cone. Air, heated to a controlled temperature, is passed through a fan opening diagonally into the top of the cone, which is six feet in diameter. Just as the air reaches the opening to the cone, flour is mixed with it.

The mixture is then whirled around the inside of the cone. In two to ten seconds, the flour drops through a hole at the bottom, having lost from 50 to 90 per cent of its former moisture.

The air can be heated as high as 300 degrees Fahrenheit for this drying. The flour particles, however, reach no more than half that temperature. Evaporating water keeps the particles cool in the few seconds they revolve through the cone.

Prof. Dent C. Davis, a former Sedalian, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Davis, 422 South Quincy avenue.

Jewels to Throw Away
RANGOON—(P)—Minute rubies, sapphires, emeralds and diamonds were mixed among the confetti showered by guests on U Saw Baw, Secretary to President Sao hwe Thaika of Burma, and his bride, Daw Khin Khin Gyi, as they left on their honeymoon after their marriage here this week.

More than 1,000 guests attended the reception given by the President at which a sovereign-studded wedding cake was eaten. The bride, a wealthy business woman operating a chain-store in Rangoon, wore a goldcloth dress trimmed with pearls and gold sequins. She wore a wreath of diamonds on her head, and carried a handbag of solid gold.

The President's personal bodyguard, armed with sten and bren guns, ringed the President's House while the celebrations were at their height. The honeymoon car was flanked by gun-toting guards in jeeps as it drove off with the newlyweds.

The federal government's telephone bill for calls in the city of Washington amounts to more than $3,500,000 a year.

Switching to Grain Drink can Help Young and Old

"I thought my shaky nerves were due to getting older. But my doctor blamed the caffeine in coffee and suggested a switch to POSTUM. Now my nervousness is completely gone and I sleep and feel so much better!"

Are "coffee nerves" making you uncomfortable? ... Jittery by day? ... Sleepless at night? ... Many people — young and old alike — have found the answer in switching from coffee and tea to POSTUM.

SCIENTIFIC FACTS: Both coffee and tea contain caffeine — a drug — a nerve stimulant! So while many people can drink coffee or tea without ill-effect, others suffer nervousness, indigestion, sleepless nights. But POSTUM contains no caffeine or other drug — nothing that can possibly cause sleeplessness, indigestion, or nervousness!

MAKE THIS TEST: Buy INSTANT POSTUM today — drink POSTUM exclusively for 30 days. See if POSTUM doesn't help you, too, to sleep better, feel better, enjoy life more! ... INSTANT POSTUM — A Vigorous Drink made from Healthful Wheat and Bran — 100% caffeine-free! A Product of General Foods.

Ready for Christmas

Chopped red maraschino cherry bells attractively decorate the top of this handsome baked ham, while green parsley encircles it for a truly Christmasy air.

There's a great deal of meal planning ahead, for with the yuletide season thoughts just naturally seem to turn to food. Of course, the biggest event on your cuisine calendar is Christmas dinner. Those gay wrappings will already be torn from the packages under the tree and the spotlights will be focused on your table. To make Christmas dinner a treat for you, too, now is the time to do that planning.

For this feast — and for following holiday meals—choose a good size ham to be the exciting center of attraction of your table. Quickly give the plump ham, roasted to perfection, a festive dress with chopped red or green maraschino cherries, silver candies, cinnamon candies, citron foamed into clever bells or other designs. Or score the ham and center each diamond with an almond.

Roasting

In roasting, place the hame fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. The rack keeps the ham up and out of its drippings and allows free circulation of the heat. Do not add water and don't cover. No basting is necessary because the hot meat juices trickle down through the meat as it cooks in a self-basting process. Roast the ham in a 300 degree F. oven allowing 15 to 18 minutes per pound cooking time. It is wise to plan roasting time so the ham will be ready to come out of the oven about 30 minutes before serving. Given this time to "set," the ham is much easier to carve.

Fitting menu companions with baked ham include sweet potatoes cooked with oranges, buttered asparagus, and a tray of assorted relishes — celery curls, radish roses, green pepper rings. A colorful Waldorf salad of diced unpeeled apple, celery and pecan meats will add still more color. As a special touch, combine whipped cream with your salad dressing. For dessert, you'll want to serve these tender tarts, deliciously filled with spicy mince-meat.

- Mince-meat Tarts
- 2 cups sifted enriched flour.
 - 1 teaspoon salt.
 - 3/4 cup lard.
 - 4 to 6 tablespoons water.
 - 2 1-lb. cans mince-meat.
 - (3 to 3 1/2 cups)
 - 1 cup diced apples.
 - 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind.
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - Sugar
- Sift flour and salt together. Cut in lard until particles are about the size of dried peas. Add cold water a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in balls. Use as little water as possible. Chill Line six 4-inch tart pans with one-half of crust. Combine mince-meat, apples lemon rind and juice and beat thoroughly. Pour into tart shells.

Adjust top crusts. Sprinkle with a small amount of sugar and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 35 minutes. Yield: Six 4-inch tarts.

Good Scents For Mom and Pop

By Betty Clarke

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Even in cosmetics this is the "her" and "him" era.

Mom and Pop have twin bath ensembles, matching robes and pajamas and even sports jackets. So why not matching toiletries? If father and mother's dispositions grow more alike as the years roll on, as psychologists would have us believe, then their tastes must grow pretty much alike also.

In many homes today father and mother use the same toiletries. Mom uses father's after-shave lotion when she is out of cologne. Pop snafes mother's favorite lavender cologne on occasions to pat on his freshly shaved face. For that reason you will find that many manufacturers package toiletries for father in scents that are much like mother's, but a little more subdued in fragrance.

Youngsters who have been saving their pennies for Christmas gifts will find fragrant bargains at cosmetics counters. Smart and colorful holiday packaging is a big gimmick even for shaving soap which can be found in little English-type wooden bowls that cost little and look big. Or you can find sets that include also shaving lotion and talc in an aluminum shaker which will be appreciated by any fastidious Dad. After all, whiskers still grow and Dads must shave, so how can you go wrong with a set of his favorite toiletries?

In pretty much the same scent, you can find a box of toiletries that Mom will adore. Dusting powder, face powder, and lipstick plus toilet water, perfume and a handsome compact of red and white enamel with gold scroll is handsomely packaged for enchantment under the tree on Christmas morn.

Every child should give something to his parents even if it is a tiny gift. If Mother and Dad start them early in the role of being generous they will not have a "gimme" youngster on their hands. They should be taught to save and whenever possible allowed to pick the gift for mother and dad.

Economical Pork Steaks

Juicy pork blade steaks, temptingly garnished with little spiced crab apples, are ideal for serving during busy holidays. These steaks are cut from the pork shoulder and are often quite a thrifty buy.

During the holiday rush, you often have to cut the time spent in meal preparation. To answer this holiday need for simple and tasty food, choose pork blade steaks. Aside from their tempting goodness, you'll find that pork blade steaks, cut from the pork shoulder, are often an economical purchase.

The same as pork chops, pork steaks are cooked by braising. This slow cooking in moist heat brings out all of the rich full flavor of pork. Following the correct braising process, the steaks are placed in a frying pan and browned on both sides in their own fat or in a small amount of added fat. Two or three tablespoons of water are added, the pan tightly covered and the steaks allowed to cook over low heat for about 45 minutes or until they are well done.

Smothered Steaks
- Pork steaks are adaptable for many occasions, but they are especially tempting with apples. Brown the steaks in the usual manner, then cover them with celery cut into 2-inch lengths and tart, unpeeled apple cut into eighths. Add moisture in the form of 1/2 cup of water, and a small amount of vinegar with sugar and salt added. Cover the pan and allow the steaks to cook slowly for 45 minutes. When cooked, remove the steaks and thicken the gravy with two tablespoons of flour mixed with an equal amount of water. Stir constantly, allowing the gravy to boil vigorously for three minutes. Serve the gravy over the steaks.

Other pork steak combination toppings include apples and raisins or a well seasoned bread dressing. Or each steak may be covered with four tablespoons of uncooked rice, canned tomatoes, sliced onion and green pepper.

To temptingly follow any pork main dish, here's a recipe for pineapple upside-down cake.

Pineapple Upside-Down Cake
1 3/4 cups sifted enriched cake flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/2 cup lard.
3/4 cup sugar.
2 eggs.
1/2 cup milk.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
3 tablespoons butter or margarine.
3 tablespoons brown sugar.
4 slices canned pineapple or 1/2 cup canned pineapple cubes.
Maraschino cherries or nuts, if desired.

Cream 1/2 cup of flour and lard together thoroughly. Add the remaining flour, the sugar, baking powder, salt, vanilla and one-third cup milk. Stir and beat vigorously until smooth and fluffy. Add remaining milk. Beat again until thoroughly combined.

Tombstone For Christmas

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 14. —(AP)—Eleven-year-old Bobby Lovell is going to get his Christmas wish—a tombstone for his mother's grave.

Bobby's mother died in October, 1948, and was buried in the Montoursville cemetery.

Several days ago, the youngster—who lives in a trailer camp with his father, an unemployed laborer on relief—decided to find his mother's unmarked grave. His search proved successful yesterday after he had enlisted the aid of Police Chief Stanley C. Zartman.

"Some day I'll have enough money to buy a marker for my mother's grave," Bobby told Zartman.

The police chief related the story to a newspaper and the J. E. Gibbons company offered to donate a tombstone, engrave it and have it in place by Christmas.

Bobby examined the firm's stock, passed by a number of or-

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14. —(AP)—Virginia Warner, 24-year-old nurse who went down with polio while caring for others suffering the disease, is winning her fight back to health a second time.

She was stricken July 27 at San Angelo, Tex., while caring for polio patients, and brought to a hospital here, where she was released yesterday.

The attack was her second from the disease. She first was stricken on her eighth birthday anniversary. At that time she decided to become a nurse and aid others afflicted by the disease.

She is confined to a wheel chair, but able to be up for short times and to walk without crutches.

To Administer Egg Grading Law

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15. —(AP)—Glenn Pearl will administer Missouri's new egg grading law, Robert T. Thornburg, state commissioner of agriculture, announced.

Pearl, a native of DeKalb county, was an egg specialist with the Missouri Farmers Association 21 years. His first task with the state will be to explain the new law at a series of meetings with egg producers and dealers.

The new grading law requires eggs handled through commercial channels to conform with federal standards.

Deposit Accounts At Bank Down

According to the Monthly Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis general business in Sedalia during October showed debits to deposit accounts at banks aggregated $9,627,000, and were 3 per cent less than those for the same month last year. These debit figures represent for the most part checks against depositor's accounts in payment of goods, services, and debts, and are considered a good indicator of general business activity.

RECIPE
BAKED CIDER PUDDING
1/2 c. almonds 1 tsp. grated lemon peel
1/4 c. dry bread crumbs 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
3 eggs, separated 1 tsp. grated orange peel
1/4 c. sugar 2 c. cider

Put almonds and crumbs through food grinder, using finest blade. Beat egg yolks well, add sugar, beat until fluffy. Add lemon and orange peel, cinnamon, almonds and bread crumbs. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white and turn into well greased fluted mold. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 to 40 mins. or until firm. Unmold. DOWN AND OUT—Unusual photographic sequence above shows demonstration of a new pilot ejection seat being tested on Navy F3D "Skyknight" jet fighters at El Centro, Calif. Conventional ejection device catapults the pilot straight up from his seat. In the F3D the pilot slides down a chute in the cockpit floor and drops out from the belly of the plane. Pictures, starting at upper left and going down, show pilot's course until he is completely free of ship and is ready to pull ripcord of his parachute. Successful "ballouts" of this type have been made at speeds up to 450 miles an hour.

PROUD PAULINE—This proud mother is Pauline, ex-circus tigress in the Whipsnade Zoo, London. Her month-old daughter, Wendy, is one of a set of twins who are reported the first tiger cubs to be born in winter.

Cub Troop 56 Yuletide Party

Cub Troop No. 56 of East Sedalia Baptist church met in the church basement Monday evening. A regular monthly meeting of the Pack, which was an open-house for the families of all the Cubs. Approximately 125 persons were present, together with 35 Cubs, their Den Mothers, Cubmaster and assistant Cub-master and members of the executive committee. The meeting was opened with the giving of the Cub Oath and Promise by the entire Pack, after which a very short business session was held, during which time Mike Wolfel gave an interesting talk. The meeting was then turned into the Pack's Christmas party, starting with the decorating of the tree with ornaments the Cubs made in their respective Den meetings. While the Cubs and their guests were singing Jingle-Bells, Santa Claus made his appearance with presents for all the Cubs, their brothers and sisters, after which they had their exchange of gifts, refreshments, and the meeting closed with the singing of Christmas carols.

This Pack meets the Monday after the second Sunday of each month in the East Sedalia Baptist church basement, and all boys who have attained the age of eight years and not yet reached their 11th birthday, in this neighborhood, are most welcome to attend this meeting, and become affiliated with this pack.

Robber Goes to Church

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Church was under way and Sunday school had just started at Gunton Temple Presbyterian Church.

"What are you doing here?" Sexton John Hicks asked a man entering the basement wearing a chauffeur's uniform.

"I drove some people here," the man replied. Hicks showed him where he could sit while waiting for his employers. But the man didn't sit long. He whiled away his time investigating the choir room. When services were over four women choir members found their purses missing. Total loot: $33.87.
